Management Discussion and Analysis

For the third quarter ended September 30, 2026

Industry Outlook

An analysis by SCB EIC reveals that the value of the construction industry in 2026 is projected to remain stable at 1.41 million Baht, with the breakdown of public and private sector construction values as follows:

- The value of public sector construction in 2026 is projected to expand by +1% YOY, reaching 860,000 million Baht. Nevertheless, ongoing mega-projects are progressing, and new mega-projects are expected to be tendered in 2026.

- The value of private sector construction in 2026 is projected to continue contracting to 551,000 million Baht (-1% YOY). Residential building construction is expected to continuously contract by -2% YOY due to the shrinking housing market, while commercial real estate construction is projected to remain stable.
