Hi-speed Communication Network Service Application

1) Internet Access : to connect ISP's customers to Internet. Customers in this segment are Internet Service Providers (ISPs) who offer internet service to end-users. They lease hi-speed communication network from the Company to save their investment cost. Such major internet service providers are CS Loxinfo Plc, KSC Commercial Internet Co., Ltd. or Internet Thailand Plc (INET), etc.

2) Private Network : to connect the private network e.g. head office and branches. Customers in this segment, for example, are Telcos who lease hi-speed communication network from the Company to be their backbone networks or to provide telecom service to their end-users. There are also end-user customers who are business corporations that need massive and rapid data transmission for their business operation, for instance the communication network between headquarters and its branches of large organizations such as banks, or modern-trade retailers, etc. Examples of customers are CP ALL Plc, Bangkok Bank Plc, Kasikorn Bank Plc, Siam Commercial Bank Plc, Bank of Ayudhaya Plc, Central Retail Corporation Plc, Government Saving Bank

3) Digital Broadcast : to connect their production studios and broadcasting stations. Customers in this segment are TV program producers, Cable TV Operators, or IPTV operators, they lease hi-speed communication network from the Company to connect their production studios and broadcasting stations e.g. Thaicom uplink station or Digital TV broadcasting stations. Examples of customers are PSI Broadcasting Co., Ltd. (PSI), Splash Media Plc, RS Plc, GMM Grammy Plc, etc.

4) International Private Leased Circuit (IPLC) : to connect international communication networks or connect between local offices and oversea offices of local or multinational corporations. Such customers are also other Telcos e.g. the international carriers, local telecom operators who lease hi-speed communication network from the Company to be their backbone network or to connect between local and international networks in various countries for their customers. Such service providers are Hutchison Global Communication Co., Ltd., NTT Communications (Thailand) Co., Ltd., Verizon Business Co., Ltd., KDDI (Thailand) Co., Ltd., etc

5) Local Loop for International Private Leased

Circuit : domestic hi-speed communication network for IPLC service providers to provide IPLC service to their local end-users. Example of IPLC service providers are JasTel Network Co., Ltd., True International Gateway Co., Ltd., etc.

6) Access Network : to connect end-users to servers e.g. the connectivity from Data Center Service Providers who offer electronic data storage service and provides applications to their end-user or connectivity provided for data service providers such as Bloomberg. Such Data Center service providers do not have their own network, therefore, they need to lease our hi-speed communication network to connect with their customers' offices. Example of data center service provider are Metro System Corporation Plc, Datapro Computer System Co., Ltd., etc. who are the large Data Center service providers in Thailand and also offer one stop service for electronic data storage and Application Service Provider (ASP).

7) Other Applications : e.g. to connect small cells networks of mobile phone operators. Although they have numerous networks of their own, they lease our hi-speed communication network to be a part of their backbone or to connect their small cell networks in high-rise buildings to have fast and more extensive coverage or install additional routers to our hi-speed communication network for managed service, or add-in WiFi service in specific areas e.g. hotels or community malls, etc.

Hi - speed Network Service Technologies

Technologies used for network service can be categorized as follows:

1. Metro Ethernet Service (ME)
2. Ready Ethernet Service (RE)
3. Time Division Multiplexing Service (TDM)
4. Synchronous Digital Hierarchy Service (SDH)
5. Ethernet over Synchronous Digital Hierarchy Service (EoSDH)

6. Optical Fiber Cable Connection Service (Dark Fiber)
7. Multi-Protocol Label Switching (MPLS)
8. FTTX (GPON Technology)

1. Metro Ethernet (ME) is a hi - speed network service using optical fiber cable as the main networks on Ethernet technology platform to support large data transmissions. It offers high stability, efficiency and also cost-effective as Ethernet technology is widely used, therefore, the price has become competitive. However, its response time for data transmissions is longer than TDM technology. The Company's current network backbone capacity is up to 20 Gbps. The provided speed for Metro Ethernet service are from 1 Mbps up to 20 Gbps. and adjustable to higher speeds on request. The service customization can be done by the Network Management System, with the choice of extra-protection route to enhance the reliability on request.

2. Ready Ethernet (RE) is classified as Ethernet service for customers in commercial buildings in Bangkok Metropolitan area. The Company has prepared ready-to-service optical fiber cables and network equipment in more than 80 leading commercial buildings. Therefore, installation to customers' premises can be done within 8 working days and the service can be offered at lower service rate than ME due to the cost of main network to the building can be shared to several customers. The network equipment are interconnected to the main optical trunk networks with protection routes of optical fiber cable to provide alternate routes in cases of any failure in the main route. Therefore, customers will get high reliability and stability services of hi - speed data at all times. Presently, the Company offers Ready Ethernet service from 1 Mbps up to 10 Gbps.

3. Time Division Multiplexing (TDM) is a hi-speed network on TDM technology platform, which is the technology used since the introduction stage among large organizations. The network infrastructure consists of optical fiber cable core networks with the last mile being copper wires connected to customers.

TDM technology is suitable for real-time data transmissions. Currently, the Company offers TDM speeds from 64 Kbps up to 2 Mbps. The modem interface facilitates prompt service to customers. The Power Alarm System provides a monitoring function capability of inspecting cable signal errors. The alarm function pre-detects and alerts the Company's operations center to immediately resolve problems before customers inform of any errors. Although, TDM is used only among some groups of customers due to the limited capacity last mile, TDM is still a trusted service by customers due to its high reliability and short response time.

4. Synchronous Digital Hierarchy (SDH) is a hi-speed network service developed from TDM technology with enhanced capacity by last mile optical fiber cable. The technology utilizes a simple yet highly reliable control system to transmit data over long distances. There is also a route protection system with the ability to switch transmission cables in the event of damage incurred to regular cables to ensure continuity and reliability of data transmissions. Presently, the Company offers SDH service from 34 Mbps to 10 Gbps via optical fiber cable.

5. Ethernet over Synchronous Digital Hierarchy (EoSDH) is an exceedingly high speed data transmissions circuit using SDH technology platform with Ethernet connection to customer. EoSDH technology is suitable for users that need reliable data transmissions via Ethernet connection without additional investment in SDH Interface. Currently, the Company offers EoSDH service from 2 Mbps to 10 Gbps.

6. Dark Fiber is optical fiber cable connection service to specific customers that require self-management and control over internal data transmissions within their organizations with specific designed source and destination equipments for their transmission and have their own technical team of experts; hence, customers are free to determine transmission speeds and equipments at their own discretion.

7. Multi Protocol Label Switching (MPLS) is hi-speed network service by IP Protocol technique, using optical fiber cable networks as main network connecting service provider to customers nationwide. The service can support following connectivity:

- 7.1) Full Mesh : all branches can contact others directly
- 7.2) Hub and Spoke : all branches contact each other via a central office.

MPLS can support high speed transmission with high stability and security and can be connected with various types of equipment and routers e.g. Static, OSPF and BGP. Quality of Service can be set according to customers' need. Now, service speed is available from 1 Mbps to 10 Gbps. The service is suitable for corporations or government agencies that need high speed communication networks between head office and many branches.

8. FTTX (GPON Technology) is another hi-speed networks service using optical fiber cable with a point-to-multipoint architecture, in which PON (Passive Optical Network), the unpowered fiber optic splitters are used, therefore, cost of service is lower. Service speed is up to 1 Gbps. However, at present, service speed is available at 20, 30, 50 and 100 Mbps and adjustable via Network Management System. This service is suitable for economy broadband segment.

The Company has been determined to continually develop network service. As the demand for data connectivity has been growing along with the development of telecommunication technology and cross-borders trade and investment, the Company has expanded network coverage to catch up with increasing demand in the high potential areas that justify customers' needs and investment returns, especially the routes that connect neighboring countries which also cover major cities nationwide and 4 gateways to connect international networks.

Moreover, the international network coverage will be broaden with the MCT project by connecting to other worldwide submarine cable networks. The investment for network coverage expansion has caused the increase in cost of service in term of higher depreciation, cable laying fee, expenses of network engineers and service centers. In the long run, the Company believes this investment decision should enable effective cost control and allow more flexibility and efficiency of network management that better support rapid traffic growth.

Market Condition and Competition

In 2016, high-speed communication network service market continues to grow in term of demand and market size. However, in some market segment had high market competition that put pressure on pricing. Therefore, some network service operators maintain revenue share by offering extra bandwidth to existing customers while also acquiring new customers.

Marketing strategy also includes introducing new value added service together with network service income to serve the diverse and complex customer needs. Another key to maintain customer loyalty is quality development that need skilled human resources that the Company always emphasize the human resource development and training.

Service income from Internet Access, Private Network and International Private Leased Circuit (IPLC) are major segments that accounted for 75% of total service income. Market circumstances in these 3 segments are as follows:

Internet Access : had high bandwidth growth but market competition was high. Price per bandwidth continually dropped. As a result, revenue from this segment was rather stable. Revenue target is to maintain customer base with slightly growth.

Private Network : had high demand growth. Pricing become important consideration but there is demand for high quality service. Therefore, some customers give priority to the reliable and trustworthy service than pricing. In the near future, when Internet of Things (IOT) dominate the way we live, quality of network service will play a vital role to customer consideration. IOT need high service quality to prevent possible risks e.g. IOT for medical or mass transit systems. Revenue target in Private Network is to achieve continued growth and expand customer base.

International Private Leased Circuit (IPLC) : high demand growth from telecom operators in neighboring countries with rising trend. IPLC is normally high bandwidth, hence, higher service rates comparing to those domestic circuits that having low bandwidth. Competition was quite high. However, customers in this segment normally need to diversify their lease contract to more than one network operators to reduce network risk, therefore, minimizing chance of market monopoly. The Company set high target growth in IPLC segments. In addition, Malaysia-Cambodia-Thailand (MCT) Submarine Cable System, will be ready for service in April 2017. This project will enhance competitiveness of the Company in IPLC market to enable international network connectivity via both terrestrial and submarine segments that move the Company forward to support Thailand as a telecom hub and gateway of ASEAN.

Overall, the Company has positive view of market growth, as telecom network is crucial infrastructure for “Digital Economy Development Plan” which require cooperation from both government and private sectors that will finally benefit all telecom operators throughout the supply chain. Then, quality of network service will be more important due to its contribution to quality of other services in the future when new communication technology is developed and Thailand will need to depend on high quality telecommunication networks.

Company Background and Major Development

Symphony Communication Public Company Limited was found by the management team with over 20 years experience in telecom business. The Company was established on 24 November 2005 and has been converted to a Public Company Limited since 6 May 2010. In 2014, the Company has obtained the extension scope of service for the telecom business license Type III for International Private Leased Circuit Service (IPLC) - Terrestrial Section by adding supplementary scope of International Private Leased Circuit Service (IPLC) - Submarine Section in order to build the Submarine Cable Network to support international communication traffic growth and developing SYMC business to be ASEAN telecom hub and gateway. In addition, the Company has launched pilot project for FTTx service – another hi-speed communication network service using Gigabit Passive Optical Network (GPON) technology on existing optical fiber cable networks with speed from 20 Mbps up to 1 Gbps. The service fee is lower to match the need of small and medium enterprises as an extended market to the Company.

In 2015, the Company signed joint investment project agreement to build Malaysia - Cambodia - Thailand (MCT) submarine cable system that spans approximately 1,300 kilometers. The Company become the first Thai private company to build international submarine cable network system. This project will enhance the company to be ASEAN telecom hub and gateway. Considering the growing demand of internet usage, both in term of number of users and bandwidth. The Company has entered premium broadband internet market by collaborating with numbers of local premium broadband internet service providers. The Company provides backbone networks and technologies to these premium broadband internet service providers, especially the ones who have strong customer bases in provincial areas. Consequently, this collaboration will serve the future internet usage expansion with our existing high stable and efficient network service.

Corporate structure

Risk Factors

1. Risks from Competition in Hi-Speed data Communications Network Market

The Office of National Broadcasting and Telecommunication Commission (“NBTC”) has the authority to issue telecommunications business licenses to new operators based on the principle of free and fair competition. The Company cannot foresee the number of new operators that will be granted telecommunication business licenses. More operators will result in stronger competition. However, the telecommunications business requires expertise and experience of management and employees as well as intensive capital. Hence, large business operators have competitive advantages over small, medium and new operators. At present, price competition is stronger in some markets segment that customers are more price conscious due to difficult economic situations.

Therefore, the Company strategically prepared for such competition by emphasizing on its businesses strength and focus on the markets that the Company has competitiveness, especially in current service coverage areas or corporate market that has high service loyalty for years. In addition, the Company also extend service scopes by providing related services e.g. broadband internet service support to small and medium broadband operators, international network service to inter carriers, joint invest with telecom operators in neighboring countries to build submarine cable network system and cable landing station for a new alternative international gateway for Thailand and one-stop ICT solution service.

2. Risks from Legal Regulations and Government Policy regarding Telecommunication Business

Symphony Communication Public Company Limited

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Shareholders of Symphony Communication Public Company Limited

Opinion

I have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Symphony Communication Public Company Limited and its subsidiary (the Group), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2016, and the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income, changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and have also audited the separate financial statements of Symphony Communication Public Company Limited for the same period.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Symphony Communication Public Company Limited and its subsidiary and of Symphony Communication Public Company Limited as at 31 December 2016, their financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

I conducted my audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing. My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of my report. I am independent of the Group in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants as issued by the Federation of Accounting Professions under the Royal Patronage of His Majesty the King as relevant to my audit of the financial statements, and I have fulfilled my other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in my professional judgement, were of most significance in my audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of my audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming my opinion thereon, and I do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

I have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of my report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, my audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to my assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements. The results of my audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for my audit opinion on the accompanying financial statements as a whole.

Key audit matters and how audit procedures respond for each matter are described below.

Revenue recognition

Because the amount of service income that the Company recognises in each period forms a significant portion of the Company's total revenues. In addition, the Company has entered into agreements with a large number of customers and there are a variety of conditions in these agreements. As a result, the Company's recognition of revenue from service income is complex. I have therefore focused on the audit of occurrence and timing of revenue recognition of service income.

I have examined the revenue recognition of the Company by

- ▶ Assessed and tested the Company's IT system and its significant internal controls with respect to the revenue cycle by making enquiry of responsible executives, gaining an understanding of the controls and selecting representative samples to test the operation of the designed controls.
- ▶ Applied a sampling method to select supporting documents for service income to assess whether revenue recognition was consistent with the conditions, and in compliance with the Company's policy.
- ▶ On a sampling basis, examined supporting documents for actual service transactions occurring during the year and near the end of the accounting period.
- ▶ Reviewed credit notes that the Company issued after the period-end.
- ▶ Performed analytical procedures on disaggregated data to detect possible irregularities in service income throughout the period, particularly for accounting entries made through journal vouchers.

Network equipment

As discussed in Note 10 to the consolidated financial statements, net book value of network equipment as at 31 December 2016 are totaling Baht 3,232 million, or 80% of total assets. Therefore, in determining the impairment loss on network equipment, management had to exercise judgement with respect to its projections of future operating performance, plans for management of the Company's assets, and determination of an appropriate discount rate and key assumptions. There is thus a risk with respect to the value of network equipment.

I assessed the management's selection of a financial model, by gaining an understanding of management's decision-making process and evaluating whether the decisions were consistent with how assets are utilised. In addition, I gained an understanding of and assessed the following:

- ▶ The assumptions applied in preparing plans and cash flow projections for the Company, based on the understanding I gained of the process by which the figures were arrived at, comparison of the assumptions with sources of information and comparison of past cash flow projections with actual operating results in order to assess the exercise of management judgement in estimating cash flow projections.
- ▶ The discount rate, based on the average cost of capital and other data and
- ▶ The assumptions and approaches used by management in calculating the fair value of assets.

Litigation

As discussed in Note 29.6 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company had contingent liabilities arising from litigation claims and commercial disputes resulting from rental of optic fiber conduit. As the cases are not yet finalised, the management needs to exercise significant judgement and take into account related laws and regulations in assessing the effects of the litigation and disputes, in order to determine the corresponding liabilities. However, the actual outcomes of the litigation and disputes may differ from the estimates. There are therefore risks with respect to the recognition of provision or disclosure of contingent liabilities with respect to the litigation and disputes.

I inquired with the Company's management and legal department regarding the procedures followed to collate and monitor lawsuits filed and pending as at the date of the financial statements, reviewed legal consultation fees to check the completeness of the litigation notified by the Company, inquired about the details and progress of cases and the methods applied by the management in estimating liabilities from litigation, and assessed the judgement exercised by the management in estimating these liabilities. To carry out these procedures, I performed the following.

► Reviewed relevant conditions from related regulator that the Company referred to in determination of disputes, together with the claims and objections submitted by the Company and counterparties to the court for the purpose of providing background into the disputes.

► Reviewed correspondence between the Company and the legal consultant involved in the litigation, and relevant supporting documentation used by management and prepared by external experts, and sent confirmation letters to the legal consultant whose services were used by the Company requesting written reports on case details and status, and legal opinions on the possible effects of the litigation on the Company. I also assessed the legal consultant's competence, experiences, independence and objectivity in accordance with relevant auditing standards.

In addition, I reviewed the disclosure of information relating to litigation and commercial disputes in the notes to the financial statements.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprise the information included in annual report of the Group, but does not include the financial statements and my auditor's report thereon. The annual report of the Group is expected to be made available to me after the date of this auditor's report.

My opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and I do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with my audit of the financial statements, my responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or my knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When I read the annual report of the Group, if I conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, I am required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance for correction of the misstatement.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

My objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing, I exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. I also:

- ▶ Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- ▶ Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- ▶ Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- ▶ Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in my auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify my opinion. My conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of my auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- ▶ Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

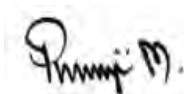

▶ Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. I am responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. I remain solely responsible for my audit opinion.

I communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during my audit.

I also provide those charged with governance with a statement that I have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on my independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, I determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. I describe these matters in my auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, I determine that a matter should not be communicated in my report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Miss Pimjai Manitkajohnkit.

Intangible assets are initially recognised at cost. Following the initial recognition, the intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses (if any).

Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised on a systematic basis over the economic useful life and tested for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method of such intangible assets are reviewed at least at each financial year end. The amortisation expense is charged to profit or loss.

The intangible assets with finite useful lives is as follows.

Finance leases are capitalised at the lower of the fair value of the leased assets and the present value of the minimum lease payments. The outstanding rental obligations, net of finance charges, are included in long-term payables, while the interest element is charged to profit or loss over the lease period. The assets acquired under finance leases is depreciated over the useful life of the assets.

The consolidated and separate financial statements are presented in Baht, which is also the Company's functional currency. Items of each entity included in the consolidated financial statements are measured using the functional currency of that entity.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Baht at the exchange rate ruling at the end of reporting period, with the exception of those covered by forward exchange contracts, which are translated at the contracted rates.

Gains and losses on exchange are included in determining income.

4.13 Impairment of assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Company and its subsidiary performs impairment reviews in respect of the network equipment, property, building and equipment and other intangible assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that an asset may be impaired. An impairment loss is recognised when the recoverable amount of an asset, which is the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use, is less than the carrying amount. In determining value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs to sell, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by a valuation model that, based on information available, reflects the amount that the Company and its subsidiary could obtain from the disposal of the asset in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable, willing parties, after deducting the costs of disposal.

An impairment losses is recognised in profit or loss.

In the assessment of asset impairment if there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased, the Company and its subsidiary estimate the asset's recoverable amount. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The increased carrying amount of the asset attributable to a reversal of an impairment loss shall not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in profit or loss.

4.14 Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Salaries, wages, bonuses and contributions to the social security fund are recognised as expenses when incurred.

Post-employment benefits

► Defined contribution plans

The Company and its employees have jointly established a provident fund. The fund is monthly contributed by employees and by the Company. The fund's assets are held in a separate trust fund and the Company's contributions are recognised as expenses when incurred.

► Defined benefit plans

The Company has obligations in respect of the severance payments it must make to employees upon retirement under labor law. The Company treats these severance payment obligations as a defined benefit plan.

The obligation under the defined benefit plan is determined by a professionally qualified independent actuary based on actuarial techniques, using the projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from post-employment benefits are recognised immediately in other comprehensive income.

4.15 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company and its subsidiary have a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

4.16 Income tax

Income tax expense represents the sum of corporate income tax currently payable and deferred tax.

► Current tax

Current income tax is provided in the accounts at the amount expected to be paid to the taxation authorities, based on taxable profits determined in accordance with tax legislation.

► Deferred tax

Deferred income tax is provided on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts at the end of each reporting period, using the tax rates enacted at the end of the reporting period.

The Company and its subsidiary recognise deferred tax liabilities for all taxable temporary differences while they recognise deferred tax assets for all deductible temporary differences and tax losses carried forward to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which such deductible temporary differences and tax losses carried forward can be utilised.

At each reporting date, the Company and its subsidiary review and reduce the carrying amount of deferred tax assets to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised.

The Company and its subsidiary record deferred tax directly to shareholders' equity if the tax relates to items that are recorded directly to shareholders' equity.

4.17 Derivatives

► Forward exchange contracts

Receivables and payables arising from forward exchange contracts are translated into Baht at the rates of exchange ruling at the end of reporting period. Unrecognised gains and losses from the translation are included in determining income. Premiums or discounts on forward exchange contracts are amortised on a straight-line basis over the contract periods.

► Interest rate swap contracts

The net amount of interest to be received from or paid to the counterparty under an interest rate swap contract is recognised as income or expenses on an accrual basis.

4.18 Equity-settled share-based payment transactions

The Company recognises share-based payment transactions when services from employees are rendered, based on the fair value of the share options on the grant date. The expenses are recorded over the vesting period, in accordance with the conditions regarding length of service rendered by employees stipulated in the share-based payment plan, together with a corresponding increase in "Capital reserve for share-based payment transactions" in shareholders' equity.

Estimating fair value for share-based payment transactions requires management to exercise judgement, and to apply assumptions, including as to the expected life of the share options, share price volatility and dividend yield.

4.19 Fair value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between buyer and seller (market participants) at the measurement date. The Company and its subsidiary apply a quoted market price in an active market to measure their assets and liabilities that are required to be measured at fair value by relevant financial reporting standards. Except in case of no active market of an identical asset or liability or when a quoted market price is not available, the Company and its subsidiary measure fair value using valuation technique that are appropriate in the circumstances and maximises the use of relevant observable inputs related to assets and liabilities that are required to be measured at fair value.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy into three levels based on categorise of input to be used in fair value measurement as follows:

- ▶ Level 1 - Use of quoted market prices in an observable active market for such assets or liabilities
- ▶ Level 2 - Use of other observable inputs for such assets or liabilities, whether directly or indirectly
- ▶ Level 3 - Use of unobservable inputs such as estimates of future cash flows

At the end of each reporting period, the Company and its subsidiary determine whether transfers have occurred between levels within the fair value hierarchy for assets and liabilities held at the end of the reporting period that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis.

5. Significant accounting judgements and estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with financial reporting standards at times requires management to make subjective judgements and estimates regarding matters that are inherently uncertain. These judgements and estimates affect reported amounts and disclosures; and actual results could differ from these estimates. Significant judgements and estimates are as follow:

Allowance for doubtful accounts

In determining an allowance for doubtful accounts, the management needs to make judgement and estimates based upon, among other things, past collection history, aging profile of outstanding debts and the prevailing economic condition.

Network equipment, property, building and equipment

In determining depreciation of network equipment, building and equipment, the management is required to make estimates of the useful lives and residual values of the network equipment, building and equipment and to review estimate useful lives and residual values when there are any changes.

In determining amortisation of intangible assets, the management is required to make estimates of the useful lives of the intangible assets and to review estimate useful lives when there are any changes.

In addition, the management is required to review network equipment, property, building and equipment and intangible assets for impairment on a periodical basis and record impairment losses when it is determined that their recoverable amount is lower than the carrying amount. This requires judgements regarding forecast of future revenues and expenses relating to the assets subject to the review.

Deferred tax assets

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences and losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and level of estimate future taxable profits.

Post-employment benefits under defined benefit plans

The obligation under the defined benefit plan is determined based on actuarial techniques. Such determination is made based on various assumptions, including discount rate, future salary increase rate, mortality rate and staff turnover rate.

Litigation

The Company has contingent liabilities as a result of litigation. The Company's management has used judgement to assess of the results of the litigation and believes that no loss will result. Therefore, no contingent liabilities are recorded as at the end of reporting period.

* On 3 May 2016, the Company readjusted the exercise ratio and exercise price of warrants to a ratio of 1 warrant to 1.08333 new ordinary shares at an exercise price of Baht 13.588 per share.

The estimated fair value of each share option granted is Baht 4.91. This was calculated using the Black-Scholes Model. The model inputs were the share price at price determination date of Baht 17.50, exercise price of Baht 14.72, expected volatility of 35.83%, expected dividend yield of 3.94%, life of share options of 4 years, average life of share options of 2.08 years, and a risk-free interest rate of 2.88%.

During the year 2016 and 2015, the Company recorded expenses of the warrants (ESOP) amounting to Baht 7 million as personnel expenses, together with a corresponding increase in capital reserve for share-based payment transactions in shareholders' equity.

During the year, movements of the number of warrants (ESOP) were as follows:

	2016	2015
	(Unit)	(Unit)
Number of warrants at the beginning of the year	5,196,200	5,547,300
Cancelled warrants	-	(351,100)
Number of warrants at the end of the year	5,196,200	5,196,200

Up to 31 December 2016, the Company cancelled a total of 439,600 warrants (2015: 439,600 warrants) to purchase ordinary shares of the Company that had been allocated to the directors and management of the Company, because the directors and management who held those warrants had resigned, thus breaching the conditions under which the warrants were received.

Act B.E. 2535, the Company is required to set aside to a statutory reserve at least 5% of its profit for the year after deducting accumulated deficit brought forward (if any), until the reserve reaches 10% of the registered capital. The statutory reserve is not available for dividend distribution. At present, the statutory reserve has fully been set aside.

As at 31 December 2016, the Company and its subsidiary have deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses totaling Baht 4 million (2015: Baht 3 million), on which deferred tax assets have not been recognised as the Company and its subsidiary believe that future taxable profits may not be sufficient to allow utilisation of the temporary differences and unused tax losses.

25. Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing profit for the year attributable to equity holders of the Company (excluding other comprehensive income) by the weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue during the year. The number of ordinary shares of the prior year used for the calculation, as presented for comparative purposes, has been adjusted in proportion to the change in the number of shares as a result of the distribution of the stock dividends as discussed in Note 28, as if the shares comprising such stock dividends had been issued at the beginning of the earliest period reported.

Diluted earnings per share is calculated by dividing profit for the period attributable to equity holders of the Company (excluding other comprehensive income) by the weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue during the year plus the weighted average number of ordinary shares which would need to be issued to convert all dilutive potential ordinary shares into ordinary shares. The calculation assumes that the conversion took place either at the beginning of the year or on the date the potential ordinary shares were issued.

The following table sets forth the computation of basic earnings per share:

Consolidated financial statements
	Profit for the year		Weighted average number of ordinary shares		Earnings per share
	2016	2015	2016	2015	2016	2015
	(Thousand Baht)	(Thousand Baht)	(Thousand shares)	(Thousand shares) (Restated)	(Baht)	(Baht) (Restated)
Basic earnings per share
Profit attributable to equity holders
of the Company	99,360	113,896	325,394	325,394	0.31	0.35

Separate financial statements
	Profit for the year		Weighted average number of ordinary shares		Earnings per share
	2016	2015	2016	2015	2016	2015
	(Thousand Baht)	(Thousand Baht)	(Thousand shares)	(Thousand shares) (Restated)	(Baht)	(Baht) (Restated)
Basic earnings per share
Profit attributable to equity holders
of the Company	99,365	113,047	325,294	325,294	0.31	0.35

However, no calculation of diluted earnings per share for the years ended 31 December 2016 and 2015 were required for warrant (ESOP), as disclosed in Note 20, since the aggregated amounts of the exercise price and the fair value of the warrant were higher than the average market price of the Company's ordinary shares.

26. Segment information

Operating segment information is reported in a manner consistent with the internal reports that are regularly reviewed by the chief operating decision maker in order to make decisions about the allocation of resources to the segment and assess its performance.

For management purposes, the Company and its subsidiary are organised into business units based on its products and services and have two reportable segments as follows:

- ▶ The render of communication high speed circuit services segment, which renders high speed circuit service via fiber optic cable as approved by NBTC.
- ▶ The network equipment services segment, which render preventive maintenance service and installation of network equipment.

No operating segments have been aggregated to form the above reportable operating segments.

The chief operating decision maker monitors the operating results of the business units separately for the purpose of making decisions about resource allocation and assessing performance. Segment performance is measured based on operating profit or loss and total assets and on a basis consistent with that used to measure operating profit or loss and total assets in the financial statements.

The basis of accounting for any transactions between reportable segments is consistent with that for third party transactions.

The following tables present revenue, profit and total assets information regarding the Company's and its subsidiary's operating segments for the years ended 31 December 2016 and 2015, respectively.

29.5 Other commitment

As at 31 December 2016, total credit facilities, both short-term and long-term loans, of the Company that could be drawn down amounted to Baht 2,049 million (2015: Baht 2,155 million).

29.6 Contingent liabilities

In 2011, a company transferred a quantity of fiber optic cable to the Company. The cable was already installed and in use in an underground cable conduit in Bangkok, belonging to the operator of a telecommunication business. Subsequently, in the first quarter of 2012, the Company received notification of the new rental rate for the underground cable conduit stipulated by the telecom operator, but no invoice has been issued to collect rental. Nevertheless, the Company has recorded a liability in respect of its rental obligations, estimated on the basis of the rental that was previously notified to the transferor of the fiber optic cable, which is lower than the new rental rate stipulated by the telecom operator. The Company's management believes that since the new rental rate for the underground cable conduit is considerably higher than the former rate, it is a rate stipulated by the telecom operator that is not in line with the principles and methods of determining network usage charges for licensees under the notification of the National Broadcasting and Telecommunications Commission (NBTC) on the use and interconnection of telecommunications networks B.E. 2549 ("IC notice"), since, in fact, these underground cable conduits were built and used by that telecom operator and had been used by the company that transferred the fiber optic cable to the Company for least 10 years. They are thus existing assets of the telecom operator and have not required additional investment expenditure. The Company therefore believes that the new rental rate stipulated by the telecom operator is not in line with cost-based principles ("IC notice No.19") and the method of calculating the rental charge may not reflect the cost, as approved by NBTC ("IC Notice No.20"). In addition, if there is to be any change in the rental rate the telecom operator, as the licensed network operator, is required to provide the Company, as a licensee requesting use of the network, with at least 90 days' notice, and evidence or reasons showing why the rate change is needed ("IC Notice No.21"). The telecom operator has not done this. Therefore, in order to move forward in accordance with legal principals and procedures, the Company submitted a letter asking the telecom operator to clarify the reasons for setting a new rental rate for the network and to provide the Company with evidence and the calculation method used to determine that rate. The Company also asked to exercise its right to negotiate a reduced, reasonable and fair, and legal rate with the telecom operator.

Subsequently, in July 2012, that telecom operator replied to the Company, confirming that the rental rate for the underground cable conduit stipulated by the telecom operator is the appropriate and notifying the Company to confirm the payment of rental fees for the underground cable conduit by 15 August 2012 so that it can proceed with collection of fees from the Company, and that there would be no adjustment of the rental rate disputed by the Company.

However, the Company announced that it would reduce usage of the underground cable conduit as from 1 April 2012 as necessary, and the telecom operator reviewed the information in August 2012 claimed additional rental for the underground cable conduit at a rate equal to the new rental rate.

As the rental rate has been confirmed by the telecom operator, the Company's management believes that the Company and the telecom operator remain in dispute over rights under the agreement for use of underground cable conduit. The Company therefore submitted a letter reserving its right to refuse to accept the amount specified by the telecom operator because they believe that it has been calculated based on an unfair rental rate that is unlawful in accordance with the IC notice, and its right to request time to verify the amount notified.

In addition, the Company has the right to request that NBTC to accept the dispute for dispute settlement procedures in accordance with the IC notice. Nevertheless, the Company recorded accrued rental fee for cable conduit totalling amount to Baht 10 million.

Subsequently, while the Company was preparing to request that NBTC intervene to provide a fair resolution, the management of the Company and the telecom operator entered into negotiations to resolve this issue. However, the telecom operator sued the Company as the second defendant through the civil courts, claiming payment for use of the conduit together with interest to the date of the lawsuit amounting to Baht 39.2 million, as well as interest at the rate of 7.5% per annum on principal of Baht 36.8 million. The Company received a copy of the lawsuit on 24 July 2014. Since the management of the telecom operator provided no prior notification or warning, it will be necessary for the Company to settle the dispute through court proceedings. The Company's management believes that the Company will win the case, since it should be resolved through dispute settlement procedures in accordance with the IC notice and is not within the authority of the Civil Court. Moreover, the telecom operator did not proceed in compliance with the notification of the NBTC (IC notice).

The Company subsequently had the opportunity to negotiate with the management of the telecom operator to resolve the disputes. The initial results of these negotiations suggest that a resolution is possible, and the Company has submitted a compromise proposal to the telecom operator. Under this proposal the Company has requested the telecom operator to charge for underground cable conduit rental at the old rate from the date following the expiration date of the service contract between the telecom operator and the company that transferred the fiber optic cable to the Company, and the date that the Company received notification of the new rental rate. After that, the new rental rate will be applied. This proposed compromise would significantly reduce rental liabilities. However, the telecom operator decided not to enter into a compromise agreement as proposed by the Company, because legal proceedings were already underway. The Company therefore proceeded with two courses of action.

The first course of action was to submit a petition the NBTC to request a fair resolution bestowed upon it by telecoms law and the IC Notice to set of a correct rate for the underground cable conduit, and to provide protection to the Company to use the fiber optic cable from such conduit. The Company then followed its second course of action, which was to submit a statement of defence to the Civil Court that provides grounds to dispute both legal and factual aspects of the case, showing that the telecom operator had acted illegally and the Company had no legal obligation at all to pay the telecom operator the amounts being claimed under the lawsuit. The Company also filed a petition with the Court challenging the Court's jurisdiction over the case. Therefore, the Court issued an order to suspend the court proceedings, and pass the case to the Administrative Court. The Administrative Court was of the opinion that it has jurisdiction over the case, meaning there is a difference of opinion over the issue of court jurisdiction. Therefore, the matter was forwarded to the Court Jurisdiction Commission for determining court jurisdiction, and on 29 April 2015, the Commission decided that this case is under the jurisdiction of the Administrative Court. The Civil Court therefore struck the case from its case list and it can be construed that there are no longer any lawsuits that the telecom operator brought against the Company in the Civil Court.

Subsequently, the Administrative Court has announced the Court order dated 26 June 2015 to the Company that the Administrative Court has received the case from the Civil Court. However, the Company has determined that it does not agree with the order of the Court; therefore, the Company filed a rebuttal statement to the Court on 13 August 2015. The Court considered the rebuttal statement of the Company and ordered on 28 August 2015 to reject the statement although the Civil Court had strike the case out of the case list. The Civil Court had already summarised the statements and sent all the documents to the Administrative Court. It means that the case had been transferred to the Administrative Court. Although the Company still disagrees with the Court's order, such order is an interlocutory order by law. An appeal against an interlocutory order shall be filed at the same time when an appeal against a judgement is filed. In this regard, the Company has to wait till the Administrative Court reaches its judgement on this case so that it can lodge an appeal. The case is currently under legal proceedings by the Administrative Court. The Company's management believes that the Company will win this case.

30. Financial instruments

30.1 Financial risk management

The Company's and its subsidiary's financial instruments, as defined under Thai Accounting Standards No. 107 "Financial Instruments: Disclosure and Presentations", principally comprise cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables, short-term loans, trade and other payables, and long-term loans. The financial risks associated with these financial instruments and how they are managed is described below.

Credit risk

The Company and its subsidiary's are exposed to credit risk primarily with respect to trade accounts receivable and other receivables. The Company and its subsidiary manage the risk by adopting appropriate credit control policies and procedures and therefore does not expect to incur material financial losses. In addition, the Company and its subsidiary do not have high concentrations of credit risk since it has a large customer base. The maximum exposure to credit risk is limited to the carrying amounts of trade and other receivables as stated in the statements of financial position.

Interest rate risk

The Company's and its subsidiary's exposure to interest rate risk relates primarily to its cash and cash equivalents, short-term and long-term loans. However, since most of the Company's and its subsidiary's financial assets bear floating interest rates or fixed interest rates which are close to the market rate, the interest rate risk is expected to be minimal.

As at 31 December 2016 and 2015, significant financial assets and liabilities classified by type of interest rate are summarised in the table below, with those financial assets and liabilities that carry fixed interest rates further classified based on the maturity date, or the repricing date if this occurs before the maturity date.
