These past two years have been marked by significant challenges that tested and strengthened the resilience and adaptability of our management team. In the face of adversity, we have navigated through the enduring impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic and disruptions caused by the Russia-Ukraine conflict, particularly affecting the energy and logistics supply chains. Additionally, the shifting global and regional political risks, along with economic fluctuations impacting energy consumption across Europe, the United States, and Asia, have all directly influenced the Company's operations.

Despite these challenges, our teams in Thailand and Indonesia have demonstrated remarkable collaboration and steadfast unity. Combined with the profound knowledge, expertise, and management skills of our executives, we have successfully overcome these obstacles, and guided the Company towards its objectives. In 2023, the Company achieved a total revenue of Baht 22,978.25 million, a net profit of Baht 2,088.11 million, with an EBITDA margin of 29.47 percent, a return on equity of 26.88 percent, and the book value as at the end of 2023 of Baht 15.44 per share. In addition, the Company was proudly awarded with the Best Company Performance Awards by the Stock Exchange of Thailand, in collaboration with the Money & Banking Magazine. Moreover, the Company earned recognition from Forbes Asia Magazine with the Best Under A Billion Award 2023, one among 200 top-performing publicly listed companies in the Asia-Pacific region with annual sales under 1,000 million US dollars.

As the Chairman of the Board and representative of the shareholders, I am deeply committed to ensuring the stability and long-term sustainability of the Company's operations. Our dedication is directed towards optimizing team efficiency and contributing to public welfare, both directly and indirectly. We aim to create opportunities and generate revenue for the Company by actively pursuing investments in new non-coal business or a second leg business to capitalize on new opportunities and enhance revenue to the Company. Our focus remains on investing in environmentally friendly projects, upholding our ESG (Environment, Social, and Governance) commitments, ensuring stability and sustainability for the long term.

I would like to take this opportunity to extend heartfelt gratitude to the shareholders, Board of Directors, executives, employees, stakeholders, and all other relevant parties for their unwavering support and confidence in our endeavors. The Company committed to move forward steadily along our established path, while prudently exploring innovative avenues to strengthen our position and deliver sustainable returns that not only enhance your investments but also instill a sense of pride for everyone involved.

At present, SGP is in the process of developing a new coal deposit within SGP concession area, namely, Margomulyo Block ("MG"). Coal production and distribution from MG commenced in the 2nd quarter 2024 of approximately 0.5 million metric tons, before increasing to 1-1.5 million metric tons in the following years. The coal produced from MG will be transported via the port and jetty of the Argosari Block ("AG"), which is currently in operation. SGP has increased its production capacity by having constructed a second coal processing plant and renovating the coal stockyard areas to increase coal stockpile capacity to 200,000 metric tons, and currently renovating the port and jetty, as well as adding another 1.70-km long conveyor belt extending from the port to the jetty in the sea in order to accommodate the coal production and distribution from the AG and MG coal deposits as mentioned above, with plan to produce and distribute coal of approximately 3 million and 1.5 million metric tons per year, respectively, totaling 4.5 million metric tons per year. The coal produced is of good quality with relatively high calorific value and low Sulphur content, making it easily marketable and profitable.

PT. Pesona Khatulistiwa Nusantara ("PKN") a subsidiary company registered in Indonesia, with Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. directly holds shares at 10 percent of the total number of shares, conducts coal mining business operation in Bulungan Regency, North Kalimantan, having received the coal mining concession (Coal Contract of Work) from the Indonesian Government for coal production and distribution for a period of 30 years (from 2009 to 2039). The remaining coal reserves are estimated at not less than 25 million metric tons with production capacity in 2023 of approximately 5.8 million metric tons per year, and PKN plans to increase production capacity to 6.0 million metric tons in year 2024.

United Bulk Shipping Pte. Ltd. (“UBS”), an associated company registered in Singapore, with Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. directly holds shares at 49 percent of the paid-up capital, has been established to undertake business in ocean freight transport and coal trading, which has effectively managed coal transport services for imported coal into Thailand and coal distribution to other countries at reasonable costs.

Ethanol-for Fuel Business

Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd. (“TAE”), a subsidiary company registered in Thailand, with Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. directly holds shares at 51 percent of the paid-up capital, conducts business in the production and distribution of ethanol (99.5% anhydrous alcohol by volume) for bio-fuel purpose, with two ethanol production plants operating in Dan Chang District, Suphanburi Province consisting of the Production Line No. 1 with a production capacity of 150,000 liters per day and the Production Line No. 2 with a production capacity of 200,000 liters per day, totaling 350,000 liters per day, , utilizing molasses and cassava as main raw materials. Both ethanol plants have received investment privileges under the Investment Promotion Act B.E. 2520. Ethanol is a clean fuel used for blending with gasoline at 10, 20 and 85 percent to become gasohol, namely E10, E20 or E85, that can be used by automobiles in general. Additionally, the ordinary shares of Thai Agro Energy Public Company Limited have been listed in the Stock Exchange of Thailand and security trading has started since June 5, 2014.

Renewable Energy Business

Lanna Power Generation Co., Ltd. (“LPG”), a subsidiary company registered in Thailand in year 2016, with Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. directly holds shares at 99.99985 percent of the paid-up capital, having objectives to study and prepare for an investment in renewable energy business both domestically and overseas such as biomass energy business, electricity generation from biomass fuels, etc., including investment and development of other energy businesses such as solar energy, wind energy, electric charging station (EV Charging) or related projects, etc., which should bring in more revenues and profit in the future.

SRT Power Pellet Co., Ltd. (“SRT”), a subsidiary company registered in Thailand, with Lanna Power Generation Co., Ltd. (“LPG”), a Company’s subsidiary, having invested in the acquisition of ordinary shares and preferred shares of SRT at 99.9998 percent of the paid-up capital, conducting commercial business in the production and distribution of wood pellet, having manufacturing plant in Khian Sa subdistrict, Surat Thani Province, with production capacity of 60,000 metric tons per year. The raw material is mainly from agricultural product wastes such as wood chips, wood slabs from furniture industry, and rubber wood roots, being fed through production process and compressed into wood pellets, which are suitable as biomass fuel for the boilers and furnaces in the electricity power and steam generation and several industries. During 2020-2021, SRT has been affected by the pandemic situation of COVID-19, with a decline in furniture exports causing shortages of wood raw materials, which is the main raw material for wood pellet production, and thus the prices were increased considerably, thereby affecting SRT’s operations and resulting in a net loss. Therefore, the Company has decided to restructure the investment in SRT, by having SRT to transfer its business to LPG, and SRT will proceed to register the dissolution and liquidation after completing the business transfer to LPG. LPG will explore the feasibility of producing biomass fuel from alternative raw materials for further distributing to customers. On July 20, 2023, the Extraordinary General Meeting of SRT’s shareholders unanimously approved the dissolution of SRT. Subsequently, the dissolution of the business was officially registered on the same day, and currently undergoing the liquidation process.

(1.2.3) COAL BUSINESS

Coal Characteristics

Coal is a fossil fuel, consisting of volatile matter, inherent moisture and an important combustible mixture of carbon. After combustion with the volatile matter and inherent moisture driven out, small portion of coal ash remains. Coal is found in various forms or grades based on the contents of heating or calorific value, volatile matter, and fixed carbon, representing in descending order of quality in 4 groups from (1) anthracite, (2) bituminous, (3) sub-bituminous, and (4) lignite. The indigenous coal deposits in that have been explored and extensively developed for local industries in Thailand are generally of lignite grade. Imported coal is mostly of bituminous grade which contains higher calorific value than lignite coal produced in Thailand.

The price of coal is usually determined based on the quality of coal, consisting of calorific value, moisture, volatile matter, fixed carbon, ash, sulfur and size.

Coal Production

Coal is formed in several stages from plant remains that have been compacted, hardened, chemically altered, and metamorphosed by heat and pressure over millions of years. Therefore, to develop a coal mine, coal exploration works are required for the collection and interpretation of geological data in order to learn about the thickness of coal seams, boundary areas of the coal resource, chemical content and quality, and economic reserve estimation. The development of coal deposits is generally based on the information and data obtained from these exploration programs. Accordingly, the production of coal consists of following three major steps:

(1) Coal Exploration: The exploration program begins with the preliminary collection and analysis of the land surface and geological data at the target areas. Subsequently, fieldwork includes scout drilling to study the formation and type of soil and rock, and geological structure of the target areas to ascertain that there exists the coal deposit with further assessment of coal quality and reserve estimation for economic analysis to facilitate a decision for further development of the coal mine.

(2) Coal Mining: Before proceeding with coal mining operation, more detail drilling activities are required to collect and interpret necessary information and data of the mining areas, such as, coal reserves and quality for each of the coal seam formations including soil layers. The collected data and information will be used to determine the mine master plan which includes the analysis of mining costs and mining methods, as well as the quantity and areas for overburden removal and coal winning logistics, and selection of suitable mining equipment and machinery.

(3) Coal Dressing: To attain the quality as required by the users or customers, coal extracted from the coal mining operation need to go through coal dressing process which includes crushing, sizing, sorting, and washing to remove any contaminations, etc.

Coal Pricing Policy

Coal pricing is mainly determined by its heating value, similar to other types of fuels. The coal sale price for each customer varies depending on certain factors such as order volume, coal specifications such as calorific value, credit term and other conditions specified by the customer. These factors shall be used to determine the coal price fairly and similarly with all the customers. The price for imported coal is based on the agreement with each customer which can either be priced on FOB or CIF basis, or priced as delivered to the customer's factory, etc.

Coal Distribution

For coal distribution in the domestic market, the Company directly sells coal directly to customers without going through agent. As for the overseas market, coal is sold directly to the customers or through coal trading agents, mostly on the credit term basis, of which the Company carefully provides credit terms only for the longtime customers with stable financial status. For new customers, the Company protects the risk by having a letter of credit (L/C) opened by the customer. Since the start of operation in 1985, the Company has encountered very few bad debts from the sales of coal.

Competitive Strategy

The Company focuses mainly on the service and quality control of the coal products as its marketing strategy rather than relying on pricing strategy. In addition, the Company has continually developed ways to produce high quality coal by bringing in modern technology for continuing improvement of coal production and operation.

Competition

The domestic coal distribution business has been recognized as an oligopoly market with only a few numbers of operators, having a group of large and small industrial customers with the major competitor is Banpu Public Co., Ltd. Nevertheless, since the Company has its own high-quality coal mines with several years of mineable reserves, therefore possesses sufficient competitive advantage and business potential.

Industrial Trend

Due to the ongoing tension between Russia and Ukraine since mid-2022, the overall coal market situation has been affected with the Newcastle coal price index (NEWC) having reached its peak at USD 434.02 per metric ton in September 2022. However, the market subsequently experienced a sustained downturn throughout 2022 and well into 2023, with prices falling to USD 357.75 per metric ton in January 2023 and dropping further to USD 129.15 per metric ton in June 2023. The remaining 2023, coal prices were fluctuating between the range of USD 160 to USD 120 per metric ton until the end of 2023.

In terms of the market outlook for 2024, it remains a crucial period of rebalancing. While the market has alleviated its concerns on the Russia-Ukraine situation, it has raised its level of caution towards potential tensions in other regions, such as in the Middle East, caused by the conflicts involving Israel and Palestine, or in the case where major powers having issued retaliatory measures against each other driven by political policies, the establishment of power centers, responses to economic, trade, and investment measures, including addressing economic recession in many countries, particularly major economies such as the United States of America, China, European countries, and Japan, etc., which will have significant impact on the demand and supply across various sectors in the global market.

Regarding the collaboration to mitigate climate change and global warming, at the recent 2023 UN Climate Change Conference (COP28) held at the end of 2023, several countries have requested flexibility for adjustments of the timeframe for greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction and temperature for global warming targets by extending the previous targets in order to minimize the impact on investments in alternative energy resources, thereby maintaining the cost of production for goods and services, as well as implementing fair and equitable energy transition for all, while considering the diverse economic and technological readiness levels among different countries.

According to the International Energy Agency (“IEA”) analysis on global coal consumption, it is anticipated that over the next decade, overall energy usage will continue to rise. Coal is projected to remain the primary fuel for electricity generation due to its high demand, despite limited coal supply or production, as the development of new coal mines faces challenges with fewer coal resources available. Additionally, there is a decline in the calorific value of coal, and accessing coal resources has become more challenging due to longer transportation distances and difficulties in securing investment capital, consequently leading to increased production costs, which has put pressure on price levels to remain high.

As for the coal production and distribution business in Indonesia, the Company remains focused on supplying coal with calorific value of 3800 KCal/Kg (GAR) and 4600 KCal/kg (GAR). The emphasis is on exporting to the market in India, known for its high economic growth potential with the ongoing market expansion that is supported by minimal volatility and a stable political environment with well-established and developed economic policies.

(1.2.4) ETHANOL-FOR-FUEL BUSINESS

Ethanol, also known as ethyl alcohol is an alcohol derived from the processing of agricultural products of starch and sugar crops such as cassava, sugarcane, molasses and corn, etc., derived from digestion of starch to sugar (in case of starch raw material), and fermentation to convert sugar to alcohol; and then followed by distillation and dehydration to produce alcohol at the desired purity, up to 99.5% by volume.

The molecular formula of ethanol is C_2H_5OH with a boiling point at around $78^{\circ}C$. In general, its properties are transparent liquid, colorless, flammable, and high-octane fuel, which can be blended with gasoline at an appropriate amount to produce a clean and complete combustible fuel and reduce air pollution with less formation of hydrocarbon compound, carbon monoxide (CO) and carbon dioxide (CO_2), which is the main cause of greenhouse effect in the atmosphere.

Production of Ethanol for Fuel

Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd. (“TAE”), a subsidiary company, produces ethanol for fuel by using molasses and cassava as its main raw material. The ethanol production process consists of four main stages as follows:

(1) Mash Preparation: each type of raw material requires different processes as follows:

(a) Molasses: Preparation of molasses before fermentation by dilution with water for suitable concentration and added with acidic additive, causing organic substance or salt to settle from the molasses solvent.

(b) Cassavas: Prior fermentation, cassavas are cleaned to eliminate contaminants including metal and dirt. Subsequently, clean cassavas are mashed and mixed with water to make starch paste, then to be digested with enzyme, converting starch to sugar, before proceeding to fermentation.

(2) Fermentation: Solvent from the first stage is fed to fermentation tanks with yeast being added to convert sugar into alcohol.

(3) Distillation: Fermentation mash from the second stage is fed to the distillation column to separate contaminants and water producing about 96 percent pure alcohol which is the maximum concentration that can be achieved through this normal fermentation process. The remaining 4 percent of water shall be removed by the final stage.

(4) Dehydration: The water removal process for producing the dehydrated alcohol from the distillation process into 99.5 percent pure alcohol. Water content is absorbed by zeolites molecular sieves in two dehydration units. The dehydrated alcohol will then be distilled and cooled down before being stored for further distribution.

ETHANOL PRODUCTION PROCESS

Ethanol Pricing Policy

The Energy Policy Council (“EPC”) has approved the reference ethanol pricing by comparing the lowest prices between the ethanol price as reported to the Excise Department by ethanol producers and the ethanol price as reported to the Energy Policy and Planning Office (“EPPO”) by Section 7 traders under the Fuel Trade Act B.E. 2543, effective from December 2015 onwards. In addition to the reference ethanol price announced by EPPO, TAE determines the selling price of denatured ethanol based on cost-plus-margin basis and considers various factors, including cost of raw materials, market demand and supply, as well as the overall domestic and international markets competition, etc.

Ethanol Sales and Distribution Channels

In compliance with the regulation of the Excise Department, the ethanol product sold as fuel must undergo denaturation process, in which ethanol of at least 99.5 percent by volume is mixed with gasoline or gasohol of 0.5 percent by volume. The result is denatured ethanol that can be sold to oil companies according to Section 7 of Fuel Trade Act B.E. 2543. The oil merchant shall utilize the denatured ethanol for blending with gasoline in specific proportions to produce gasohol E10, E20, and E85, respectively. While most customers are responsible for the transportation of ethanol, in some cases the sellers are responsible for the transportation to the storage of a few other customers. Most of the sales are on a credit term basis, and the customers are large oil companies with stable financial status. Therefore, there is no risk of customers not paying debt in the future.

Competitive Strategy

Priorities are to be given to service and product quality control, as well as providing assurance of timely product delivery. These strategies contribute to fostering customer trust, strong relationships with customers, and making it possible to retain much of the market share.

Ethanol Industrial Trend

In 2023, the average ethanol consumption demand was at 3.53 million liters per day, which decreased from 2022 by approximately 8 percent. This was due to the termination of the price subsidies from the state Oil Fund for E20 and E85, effective from November 25, 2022.

Gasohol Industrial Trend

The ethanol-for-fuel will be blended with gasoline in specific proportions to produce gasohol E10, E20, and E85, respectively, therefore, the demand for ethanol as a fuel within the country is primarily influenced by the volume of gasohol consumed domestically. In 2023, the national consumption of gasohol increased by 1.26 million liters per day, or 4.09 percent compared to 2022.

Competitive Trend

In 2023, there are 27 operating ethanol plants in Thailand, representing a total capacity of 6,770,000 liters per day.

(1.2.5) FUTURE INVESTMENT PROJECTS

The Company has established business plan and investment strategy by following diversification strategy guidelines; nonetheless such development or investment shall be under prudent and careful consideration with appropriate diversification of risks, for the Company to develop with quality, stability, and sustainability in long term. In addition, the Company places importance on business operations with good corporate governance with social and environmental responsibility. Currently, the Company's core business is in the coal business, having two existing coal mining concessions in Indonesia and has recently invested in the third coal mining concession in 2021, in which the concession period of these three coal mines shall last for more than 10 years with large amount of good quality coal reserves that can earn revenues and income continuously for a long time into the future. Nonetheless, current global trend has negative view on fossil fuels, namely oil, natural gas, and coal, which are regarded as important factor for creating greenhouse gases, which cause global warming condition, seriously impacting climate conditions, by which there have been attempts to reduce and replace fossil fuels with renewable energy. However, fossil fuels are currently still the main energy sources and there are still a lot of limitations for switching to alternative energy or renewable energy for the main energy sources. Thus, fossil fuels remain necessary during this transitional period, including coal, which is still required for electricity generation and industrial process, especially with higher demand from countries in the Asia Region, albeit with declining rate of demand in the future. In any case, the Company, with knowledge and expertise in the coal business, is still looking for more investment opportunities in coal concessions in Indonesia to compensate for the reduction in coal reserves resulted from continuous production and distribution of coal every year.

The Company realizes the climate change issues and places importance on the effective utilization of resources by giving priority to environmental care and endeavor to develop and achieve the Company's goal toward carbon neutrality in the near future. The Company has established plan to create balances in its investments by focusing on future investments in the clean or renewable energy businesses, which are environmentally friendly and have continued to expand; for instance, projects involving solar energy, wind energy, hydro energy, and biomass energy, etc. Especially at present, the government sector has encouraged and increased its support for renewable and clean energy projects. Accordingly, the Company is looking for business opportunities or investment channels to achieve another round of business growth or a New S-Curve by trying to think outside the box from previous energy business development concept, being more creative to develop a new business, which is non-coal business both in Thailand and overseas, albeit without knowledge or expertise in such business. Such investment can be undertaken through business takeover, merger and acquisition or joint venture partnership deal, etc., with the objective to find opportunities or channels for investments in the other businesses to supplement revenue and income from the Company's existing coal business and ethanol business, which should contribute to Company's growth with stability, quality, and sustainability in long term according to established guidelines and objectives.

RISKS IN COAL BUSINESS

The Risk Management Committee focuses on revenue and cost of coal sales management, by having the Management plan on producing and distributing coal in correspondence with the fluctuation of global coal prices, and on foreign currency exchange management to ensure that the Company and its subsidiaries have good profitability. Management of the significant risks during 2023 can be summarized as follows:

(1) Coal Mining Operations and Associated Risks in Coal Delivery: Subsidiaries in Indonesia places importance on mitigating risks from production uncertainty, which most of the risks associated with coal mining operation are mainly from natural occurrences, particularly for the coal deposits in Indonesia which experience heavy rain each year, hampering and delaying coal production and delivery. Accordingly, a plan has been established to maintain an adequate coal stock for distribution and in accordance with the obligations in the advance coal sale agreements made with customers. This includes risk management in transportation or logistics through close communication between production department and sales departments to ensure that coal transportation always aligns with the coal production and sales plan, allowing for timely adjustments to the coal delivery plan. Additionally, the Company closely monitors news and forecasts freight rates in advance, enabling more accurate prediction of transportation expenses and proactive adaptation to any potential changes. In 2023, the subsidiaries in Indonesia, were able to manage coal delivery risk efficiently and effectively, resulting in a faster loading and delivery time than specified in the contracts, which earned quite a lot of despatch bonuses for early delivery.

(2) Coal Price Fluctuation Risk: Coal prices have shown a consistent decline since the beginning of 2023 and began to increase slightly in the 4th quarter 2023. The Company closely monitors and analyzes coal price movements in the global market to adjust its coal production and distribution plans in response to changing circumstances to determine appropriate timing of coal sale and purchase agreements negotiation with customers to achieve the best results. The price is also index-linked corresponding to the market, and the product mix is adjusted to achieve the best-selling price. Despite the volatility and uncertainty in the global economy, this approach has positively impacted the overall operating results of the Company and subsidiary companies in 2023.

(3) Risk Associated with Being Dependent on Coal Sales to the Major Customers: In 2023, despite the subsidiaries in Indonesia facing challenges in acquiring new customers, it successfully retained its existing customer base. Additionally, coal remains in demand in the market, being more affordable than alternative fuels. The Company has managed and supervised the delivery of coal, ensuring that it meets the quality requirements of customers and is delivered promptly according to their preferences. This approach helps maintain existing customers while mitigating reliance on any specific customer.

(4) Risk associated with Customers' Defaults on Coal Payment: Majority of domestic coal sales are sold on cash basis. In the case of sales on credit term, the customer must submit a commercial bank guarantee contract to the Company as a guarantee for debt payment on coal sales. As for the coal sales of the subsidiaries in Indonesia require a letter of credit (L/C) before coal delivery. Nonetheless, credit terms are only extended to quality customers. The Company has established a Credit Committee for consideration of credit terms for the customers to carefully screen any credit sales.

(5) Fuel Product Substitutes Risk: Comparing the price per heat unit with other substituted fuels, such as fuel oil, diesel oil, and natural gas, the price per heat unit of coal is still significantly lower. Therefore, the risk from fuel product substitutes is still considered low.

(6) Coal Reserves Risk: In 2023, despite not having acquired any new coal deposits to increase coal reserves, the Company has actively explored the feasibility of venturing into new renewable energy businesses. Moreover, operational audit is performed to ensure that the mine design and ongoing coal production process are consistent with the geographic regions and ore deposits orientation. This is to warrant that every process of the production is of international standards and highly effective, allowing complete commercial utilization of coal reserves, according to the Australasian Code for Reporting Mineral Standards (Joint Ore Reserves Committee Code or "JORC Code").

(7) Risk associated with Mining Contractors' Operation: The subsidiaries mainly engaged contractors for coal mining operations and transportation, therefore, there is a risk associated with contractors' inability to perform in accordance with established plans and objectives due to various issues, such as unscheduled procurement of machinery and tools, substandard maintenance of equipment, labor-related problems, or inefficient and ineffective contractor work planning. These factors may inevitably impact the production and distribution of coal for the Company and its subsidiaries. To mitigate these risk, multiple contractors have been employed, with a focus on selecting those of high quality, reliability, and a proven track record of performance, then the long-term contracts are made to ensure that contractors have adequate work for their capital acquisition for working capital. Additionally, the operations of contractors are closely monitored, and a weekly meeting is held together with each contractor to find ways to prevent problems that may occur and impact operations in the future.

(8) Occupational Safety and Environmental Risk: The Company and its subsidiaries have operated in accordance with environmental standards as stipulated by the laws by focusing on appropriate utilization of resources and put emphasis on responsibilities to the community, society, and environment by organizing training courses, preparing emergency plan, warning system and strict compliance control. The subsidiaries are required to operate by adhering to the mine plan and environmental impact analysis report, which have been approved by the relevant authorities. The mined-out land must be rehabilitated for improvement of environment, surrounding and ecology system with plantation of trees, which are conservation of nature and improvement of surrounding land for several activities such as agricultural areas, water reservoirs, residential areas, etc. The Company realizes and gives importance to the dissemination of operating information, which covers Environmental, Social and Governance or ESG. Moreover, the Company has established a carbon footprint assessment for the organization to present the organization's greenhouse gas emission and absorption data in a concrete manner for the efficient reduction of greenhouse gas emissions. In 2023, the Company participated in the mangrove planting activity for Ban Samet Ngam mangrove forest development project, located in Mueang District, Chanthaburi Province. As for the Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center, which is the domestic operator, also demonstrated a sense of responsibility towards the surrounding communities, society, and environment, by planting trees around the area and constructing a permanent wind break, as well as installing high-pressure sprinklers to spray water around the coal stockpile and hauling road areas, aimed at improving wind protection and reducing the diffusion of dust into the public. Wastewater is channeled into the sediment pond so that the sediment will not flow into the public river. Coal hauling trucks are covered with canvases and wheels and tires are cleaned by driving into the water well so to protect them from carrying any scraps onto the public road. Monitoring of air, water, and noise quality is regularly conducted. Moreover, a close system of large silos has been constructed for coal storage, effectively minimizing dust dispersion. Furthermore, the Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center has completed an Environment Impact Assessment ("EIA") report in accordance with the requirements stipulated by the Office of Natural Resources and Environmental Policy and Planning, Ministry of Natural Resources and Environment. Additionally, the Company and its subsidiaries have received recognition through environmental and community awards as follows:

(A) The Company has received the Sustainability Disclosure Acknowledgement Year 2023 Award for the fourth consecutive year.

(B) PT. Lanna Harita Indonesia (“LHI”), a subsidiary company in Indonesia, has received the awards as follows: (1) Environmental Management Award from the Ministry of Energy and Mineral Resources (“MEMR”), which is considered the industry standard for management in mining sector for its good management and adherence to relevant regulations for the coal product group of the Coal Contract of Work (“CCoW”), (2) the Green Certificate for Environmental Management Year 2022-2023 from the Governor of East Kalimantan Province, Indonesia, recognizing their compliance with environmental and safety management standards as required by the laws, and (3) Corporate Social Responsibility Award 2023 (“CSR Award 2023”) from Bupati Kutai Kartanegara, for the consistent support of social responsibility projects.

(D) The Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center has received the Corporate Social Responsibility - Department of Industrial Works Award (CSR-DIW Continuous Award 2023) and has been certified from the Department of Industrial Works, Ministry of Industry, from 2022-2025, as a Level 3 Green Industry (Green System), for its implementation of systematic environmental management with continuous assessment and review for improvement. In addition, the Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center has obtained permission to change the purpose of a port operation license to enable loading capacity of more than 500 gross tonnage, which is currently being implemented in accordance with government regulations and laws.

(9) Risk Associated with Changes and Compliance with Related Regulations and Laws: Legal compliance risks can arise from a variety of factors, including the complexity of legal provisions, frequent changes in laws, and misunderstandings regarding how to operate in accordance with the laws. These risks can result in false compliance, which can have serious consequences for the Company. Noncompliance may lead to fines, suspension or revocation of business licenses, and damage to reputation and image. Accordingly, the Company and its subsidiaries give priority to risk management related to legal compliance by having its executives closely monitor and coordinate with relevant entities, including government agencies, private sectors, communities, and stakeholders in order to be updated on changes to policies, rules, regulations, and laws. The Company also engaged a legal advisor to provide accurate and comprehensive guidance and ensure strict compliance with legal requirements. Furthermore, the Company places significant emphasis on mitigation of corruption risks through obtaining certification as a member of the Thai Private Sector Collective Action Against Corruption (“CAC”) since July 10, 2014, and has been continuously recertified until present, and promotes and supports the subsidiary to be certified as a member of the CAC. In this regard, Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd., a subsidiary company in Thailand, with ethanol-for-fuel production and distribution business, was certified as CAC member on March 9, 2017 and has been continuously recertified. Additionally, the Company places emphasis on the protection of personal information by establishing systems and procedures to comply with the Personal Data Protection Act (“PDPA”), B.E. 2562 (2019). The collection, use, or disclosure of personal information is conducted in an efficient and systematic manner to ensure compliance with regulatory requirements, having regular communication of knowledge regarding personal data protection to employees or personnel within the organization.

(10) Risk Associated with Compliance with Loan Agreements: PT. Lanna Harita Indonesia (“LHI”), a subsidiary company in Indonesia, including Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd. (“TAE”), subsidiary company in Thailand, having loans from financial institutions for business operation. In 2023, both companies have completely and correctly complied with the terms and conditions of the loan agreement without any default.

(11) Risk Associated with the Outbreak Situation of the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (“COVID-19”): The COVID-19 pandemic, which has affected the world since the end of 2019, has transitioned into an endemic state without serious impact, with the Company closely monitoring the situation. Following the outbreak, there have been significant changes in employees’ work routine. They now have flexibility to work from anywhere using electronic media systems, ensuring uninterrupted workflow. Despite these adjustments, the Company and its subsidiaries have effectively managed operations without compromising business continuity or employee safety.

RISKS IN ETHANOL BUSINESS

Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd. (“TAE”), a subsidiary company in Thailand, conducts its business in the production and distribution of ethanol-for-fuel for blending with the gasoline at different proportions to become the Gasohol for use in automobiles, namely, E10, E20, and E85. TAE is regarded as a midstream industry, which is neither upstream nor downstream industry; therefore, it is important to manage the risk regarding the procurement of raw materials, which is the upstream industry, such as molasses and cassava, etc., including the utilization of biogas as the main fuel, both being the major costs in ethanol production affecting profitability. Significant risk management in the year 2023 can be summarized as follows.

(1) Risk Associated with Procurement of Main Raw Materials: Molasses and cassava are agricultural products that being used as the main raw materials for ethanol production, which are subject to numerous factors such as climate conditions, crop diseases, and annual rainfall, especially plantation areas that may vary according to the return or compensation as compared with other agricultural products. In 2023/2024 season, it is anticipated a decrease in sugarcane crushed and molasses by 12.24 percent and 12.20 percent, respectively, as compared to 2022/2023 season. Due to the drought caused by the El Niño phenomenon, sugarcane production per rai has decreased. The central and northern areas will experience a significant reduction in sugarcane production due to more severe drought conditions compared to other regions. In 2024, TAE has considered using cassava chips as a raw material for the Production Line No. 2 in order to reduce the risk of relying solely on molasses as the raw material. Moreover, the prices of agricultural raw materials vary according to the demand and supply in both domestic and overseas markets. If the raw materials prices rise rapidly, the sales cost and the profit margin of TAE may be adversely affected. In 2024, due to the projected decrease in molasses supply, there has been a significant rise in molasses prices. Therefore, TAE is procuring molasses as needed to maintain competitive ethanol production costs and considering increasing the utilization of cassava chips as an alternative raw material for the Production Line No.2. Nonetheless, TAE has determined its ethanol selling price based on a cost-plus basis with appropriate gross margin. In addition, market situation and price trend of the raw materials such as molasses, raw sugar, and cassava, are closely and regularly monitored to procure raw materials at competitive price, as well as consider the possibility of finding business partners to create the stability of raw materials for TAE in long term.

(2) Risk Associated with being Dependent on Major Customers: TAE sells ethanol-for-fuel to oil traders under Section 7 of Fuel Trade Act, B.E. 2543 (2000) for blending with gasohol, in which this market is characterized by a limited number of customers. Consequently, in the current oversupply scenario, major customers with significant demands for ethanol have more bargaining power in terms of prices and trading conditions. In the event that major customer engages in business cooperation with an ethanol producer through the form of shareholding or the joint venture, their bargaining power will increase as ethanol is purchased from affiliated companies. Moreover, the merger of oil companies contributes to intensified competition in the market. TAE acknowledged the association risks and has endeavored to mitigate dependence on a single customer by expanding its customer base to ensure ethanol sales target with optimal terms and prices. Additionally, TAE is currently conducting a feasibility study to produce ethanol as a raw material for the higher-value-added products.

(3) Government Policy Risk: The cancellation of price subsidy for gasohol E20 and E85 by the Oil Fuel Fund Office in the 4th quarter of 2022 resulted in a higher retail price for gasohol E85 than for gasohol E20, leading to a significant decline in the demand for gasohol E85, with an average decrease in 2023 reaching 0.156 million liters per day or a decrease of 81 percent compared to the previous year. Additionally, the policy promoting the use of electric vehicles (EVs) has impacted ethanol demand and TAE's ethanol business operations. In this regard, the ethanol production and distribution must be managed efficiently and effectively, by focusing on cost management, product quality maintenance and good relationship with the customers, as well as consideration of directions for adding values to the ethanol product to expand the market into other industries, ensuring minimal impact from the government policies.

(4) Risk Associated with Growing Trends on the Use of Electric and Hybrid Vehicles: As the government has established a policy to support the electric vehicles ("EV") industry, including measures to promote EV usage for the second phase or EV 3.5 for the period of 2024-2027, effective from January 2, 2024 onwards, covering electric cars, electric pickup trucks, and electric motorcycles, with three key benefits provided as follows: (1) government subsidies, which vary based on the vehicle types and battery capacities (2) reduction of import duties for Completely Built-Up Units (CBUs), and (3) reduction of excise tax rates. As a result, there is an increasing trend in demand for electric cars, despite limitations related to prices, battery life, charging time, and the need for future development of service stations. However, this rising trend in electric vehicle usage has an impact on the demand for fuel and ethanol. Accordingly, TAE is currently conducting a feasibility study for production of other products or derivatives products of ethanol to mitigate the impact on the reduction in ethanol demand in the future.

(5) Risk Associated with Utilization of Biogas as Main Fuel for Power Generation and Steam Production used in Ethanol Production Process: Treating wastewater from ethanol production and obtaining biogas as a by-product is one of the policies concerning cost reduction and improvement on ethanol production efficiency, instead of using fuel oil and biomass as the main fuel, which significantly reduces fuel cost. Currently, TAE can sufficiently produce biogas for power generation and steam production for both production lines. However, there is certain risk from natural disaster, which is uncontrollable, causing damages to the biogas digester ponds, rendering them dysfunctional and requiring substituted fuels such as fuel oil and palm shells, etc., increasing the cost of ethanol production. Recognizing such risk, TAE has strengthened the structure of biogas digester ponds, as well as having assigned working team to closely monitor all biogas production systems, by planning to change the canvas covering biogas digester ponds (HDPE Cover) before the expiration of its use to reduce the risk of tearing when the storm occurs, as well as having inspection, repairs and maintenance of machinery consistently to ensure continuous and effective biogas generation. Moreover, insurance policies covering every type of risk from natural disasters are also in place.

(6) Risk from Environmental Impact: TAE places emphasis and recognizes the health and sanitation impacts to the surrounding community, and thus, is determined to pay attention to the potential risks including both environment and pollution aspects as follows.

(6.1) Risk Associated with Environmental Impact of Air Pollution: TAE installed bio scrubber system for removal of hydrogen sulfide (H₂S) in biogas, which is used for power generation and steam production to make biogas clean and good quality. Additionally, there is a working team monitoring and inspecting the emission of pollution from the tip of the chimney to meet the government standards with plan to maintain or replace the canvas covering biogas ponds before the expiration of its use to ensure that it is in good condition to prevent and minimize air pollution that would have an impact on the surrounding community. In 2023, a quality measuring system, as well as analyzer, and data acquisition system have already been installed, for intensive and continuous measurement of air quality emitted from chimneys (Continuous Emission Monitoring System or "CEMS") in order to monitor air quality emitted from chimneys to be in compliance with the notification of the Ministry of Industry Re: Factories to Install Special Device or Equipment for Reporting Air Pollution from Factory Chimney, B.E. 2565 (2022).

(6.2) Risk Associated with Environmental Impact of Water Resources and Wastewater Treatment: TAE has complied with the requirements of the government in “Wastewater Management in Industrial Plants” by constructing properly treated spent wash ponds from biogas production process with inspection and repair of the levees in accordance with the engineering standards with adequate freeboard distance to reduce the risk of the overflows caused by heavy rains. In addition, TAE has constructed a spent wash evaporation plant in order to reduce the volume of treated spent wash and mitigate the risk of water leakage in the event of flooding and has planned for spent wash collection aligned with ethanol production plan to ensure safety and to prevent the potential impact on the surrounding communities.

(7) Risk Associated with Compliance with Loan Agreements: The lending bank has stipulated a condition concerning the maintenance of shareholding in TAE of Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. (“LANNA”), a parent company, of no less than 50 percent of all shares during the whole duration of the loan agreement. Therefore, TAE has the risk of breaching the loan agreement condition, and the lending bank may demand a full repayment of loan, which will ultimately affect the liquidity and the operation of TAE. Accordingly, TAE is aware of this risk and has informed the Board of Directors of LANNA regarding such condition. If LANNA plans to decrease its shareholding proportion in TAE in the future, a written notification needs to be sent to TAE so that TAE may negotiate with the lending bank without breaching the loan agreement.

(8) Risk Associated with Compliance with Related Regulations and Laws: TAE is committed to complying with applicable regulations and laws, recognizing the adverse impacts that may arise, such as warnings by authorities, fines, or legal proceedings that could damage TAE’s reputation. Accordingly, TAE has assigned executives to closely monitor and coordinate with relevant entities, including government agencies, private sectors, communities, and stakeholders in order to be updated on changes to policies, rules, regulations, and laws, as well as implementing practical guidelines to ensure strict adherence to legal requirements.

FINANCIAL RISK

While the revenues for coal sales of the subsidiary companies in Indonesia are in US Dollar but their operating expenses are paid in US Dollar and Indonesian Rupiah. As for the associated company in Singapore, the revenues are in US Dollar; however, the operating expenses are paid in US Dollar and Singapore Dollar. As a result, the Company and its affiliated companies possess foreign exchange-related risk from changes of the aforementioned currency values. Accordingly, the risk is mitigated by entering into forward exchange contracts when transaction occurs, or deposit of foreign currencies received in US Dollar into various bank accounts as cash reserves for coal payments and/or other transactions in foreign currency in the future. In the past years, the management of foreign exchange was at a satisfactory level, and there was no significant impact to the Company and its affiliated companies.

(4) Other Factors Having Impact on Investment: Apart from the aforementioned transactions, the Company and its affiliated companies have no commitments or obligations regarding issued shares, warrants, convertible securities, debentures or other types of derivatives currently or in the future, as well as there is no unusual or serious event or important incident that might significantly affect financial position and operating results of the Company and its affiliated companies in the future.

(3.3) SUSTAINABILITY MANAGEMENT IN ENVIRONMENTAL DIMENSION

(3.3.1) ENVIRONMENTAL RESPONSIBILITY AND PRESERVATION

The Company prioritizes environmental responsibility in all business operations to minimize its impact on the environment. Accordingly, the Company develops innovative approaches and structures to comply with environmental laws and regulations, as well as enhancing work efficiency. Furthermore, the Company seeks partnerships with other organizations to promote environmental awareness among stakeholders and contribute to building a sustainable society. The Company has practice guidelines as follows:

(1) The Company has improved its coal processing operations to a closed system by constructing a coal processing plant and coal storage, which helps minimize the problem of dust dispersion associated with coal processing. Furthermore, the 4,000-square-meter parking area for customers' trucks is adequate and has been improved with concrete surface.

(2) The Company has constructed a permanent wind break structure around coal stockpile areas in order to improve the effectiveness of wind protection and dust dispersion to the public, in addition to the existing plantation of trees as wind barriers.

(3) The Company realizes the importance of tree planting and caring in the Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center as it is wind barrier and suppresses dust from spreading into public places.

(4) The Company has constructed a sedimentation water treatment system at the Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center in order to mitigate sediment discharged into public waterways. This system involves the construction of sedimentation ponds situated throughout the area to facilitate the collection of rainwater and water used for sprinkling onto stockpile for dust suppression. The accumulated surface water is then directed to settling ponds. Once the process is over, the water in the sedimentation pond will be efficiently reused to minimize waste and encourage efficient water utilization.

(5) The Company has constructed two truck wheels washing facilities at the Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center in which departing coal trucks are required to pass through before exiting into public roads to prevent debris and other problems that may obstruct public transportation.

(6) The Company annually conducts the environmental quality measurements of air quality, noise level, and surface water quality in the surrounding area of the Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center, Phra Nakhon Si Ayutthaya Province, at least four times a year. These measurements are carried out by engaging Mine Engineering Consultant Co., Ltd., and were found to be within the quality standards according to the Notification of the National Environment Board No. 24, B.E. 2547 (2004).

Moreover, the Company participated in the Eco-Industrial Town Project in 15 provinces, Green Industry Project, CSR-DIW, Development of Circular Economy and Low Carbon Industry Project, and Eco Factory Project organized by the Department of Industrial Works, in order to improve the environmental management, safety, energy conservation, environmental-friendly manufacturing process and efficient use of energy and resources. In year 2023, the Company has enrolled employees to the following activities:

(A) A training course on "Carbon Footprint of Organization, Class 20" dated March 1-2, 2023, conducted by the National Science and Technology Development Agency ("NSTDA").

(B) A seminar on the topic of "Delivering 'Net Zero' Together" dated July 26, 2023, conducted by the Thai Institute of Directors ("IOD").

(C) A training course on "Energy Transition & Climate Change Management, Class 4" dated August 4, 11, 18, 25 and September 1, 8, 2023, conducted by Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University

(D) A training course on "Basic Fire Fighting and Evacuation Fire Drill Training for Year 2023", dated September 20, 2023, at the Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center.

(E) A training course on "Create your Energy Management System & Effectiveness of Energy Conservation Awareness" dated October 27, 2023, conducted by the Federation of Thai Industries.

Recognizing the potential health and environmental risks associated with improper disposal of batteries, the Company ensures that they are collected and forwarded to waste disposal agencies for proper recycling in accordance with international standards.

Performance

At the Bangkok Head Office, a campaign has been initiated to encourage employees to separate plastic waste and glass bottles for recycling purposes. In addition, the Company has set up collection containers for different types of unused batteries and pass them to waste disposal agencies for proper recycling in accordance with international standards.

At the Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center, the bins are classified into two categories: green bins for general waste and red bins for the disposal of hazardous materials or equipment. Once the waste is sorted accordingly, it will be sent for proper disposal. The general waste will be transferred to the Khlongsakae Subdistrict Administration Organization once a week, other types of waste, such as oil-contaminated cloth or gloves, will be stored in a storage facility for unused materials before forwarded to a disposal agency.

FUTURE TREND

Coal Business: It is anticipated that coal prices in 2024 will remain stable. Nonetheless, there may be some support for coal price increase in the short term due to a delay of the winter season compared to previous year. However, several countries are transitioning to renewable energy sources for electricity generation instead of coal. Additionally, the global economic slowdown, particularly in China, has led to a slowdown in coal demand. In this regard, the Company and subsidiary companies have given importance to the Environmental, Social, and Governance (“ESG”), and continuously aim for sustainable development on renewable energy by exploring clean energy investment projects to mitigate environmental impacts and greenhouse gas emissions, ensuring sustainable growth of the Company and subsidiary companies in the long term. It is expected that coal business will remain profitable and continue to generate satisfactory operating results in 2024.

Ethanol Business: The demand for ethanol is expected to remain stable in year 2024 following the Government’s announcement regarding the termination of the price subsidies from the state Oil Fund for E20 and E85, effective November 24, 2023. Moreover, if the policy to support biofuels is completed in 2024, it is anticipated to increase the demand for ethanol. However, due to drought conditions in 2023, it is anticipated that the price of molasses, the main raw material for ethanol production, will rise and may be insufficient to meet domestic demand. Therefore, the subsidiary company has adjusted its strategy by using cassava as a raw material for ethanol production instead. In addition, the plan to produce and distribute soil conditioner, the byproduct of wastewater evaporation process, resulting in increased revenue and profit for the Company and subsidiary companies.

Overall Business: The global economic outlook for 2024 is anticipated to decline due to ongoing slowdown in the Chinese economy. Nevertheless, the overall operating results of the Company and subsidiary companies in year 2024 are expected to remain profitable with satisfactory performance.

SUMMARY OF THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

The consolidated financial statements and separate financial statements of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited have been audited by the certified public accountant of EY Office Limited. The auditor provided a summary of the audit results for year 2023 as follows:

Opinion

The auditor has audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited and its subsidiaries ("the Group"), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2023, and the related consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income, changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and have also audited the separate financial statements of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited for the same period. According to the auditor's opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited and its subsidiaries and of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited as of 31 December 2023, their financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

The auditor conducted the audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing. Auditor's responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of the report. The auditor is independent of the Group in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants as issued by the Federation of Accounting Professions as relevant to the audit of the financial statements, and the auditor has fulfilled other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. The auditor believes that the audit evidence obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for the auditor's opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in the auditor's professional judgement, were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of the audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming the auditor's opinion thereon, and the auditor does not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

The auditor has fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of the report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, the audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to auditor's assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements. The results of the audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for the auditor's audit opinion on the accompanying financial statements as a whole. Key audit matters and how audit procedures respond for each matter are described below.

Revenue recognition

Major revenue of the Group is derived from production and distribution of coal and ethanol. The Group recognized revenue, based on the contractual price, when control of goods is transferred to the customer, generally on delivery goods. The price is based on the market price with adjusted by other factors. Revenue from sales is a significant account because the amount of revenue from sales is material and directly affects the Group's profit or loss. In addition, selling prices are based on the fluctuating market price and current demands. The auditor therefore gave significant attention to the revenue recognition of the Group.

The auditor has examined the revenue recognition of the Group by assessing and testing its internal controls with respect to the revenue cycle by making enquiry of responsible executives, gaining an understanding of the controls and selecting representative samples to test the operation of the designed controls, applying a sampling method to select sales agreements to assess whether revenue recognition was consistent with the conditions of the relevant agreement, and whether it was in compliance with the Group's policy, on a sampling basis, examining supporting documents for actual sales transactions occurring during the year and near the end of the accounting period, reviewing credit notes that the Group issued after the period-end and performing analytical procedures on disaggregated data to detect possible irregularities in sales transactions throughout the period, particularly for accounting entries made through journal vouchers.

Coal reserve estimates for the overseas subsidiaries

Coal reserves are estimates of the amounts of coal that can be economically and legally extracted by the subsidiary companies. The subsidiary companies determine and report their coal reserves under the Australasian Code for Reporting, Exploration Results, Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves (Joint Ore Reserves Committee Code). Estimating coal reserves requires the use of assumptions about a range of geological, technical and economic factors, including production quantities, production techniques, stripping ratio, production costs, transport costs, commodity demand, coal prices and exchange rates. Estimating the quantity and/or calorific value of coal ore reserves requires the size, shape and depth of coal ore bodies or fields to be determined through an analysis of geological data such as drilling data, samples and topography. The process of making judgements with respect to such geological data is complex and difficult. Because the economic assumptions used to estimate the reserves change from period to period, and because additional geological data may be generated during the course of operations, the estimates of reserves may change from period to period. Changes in reported reserves may affect the subsidiary companies' financial results and financial position in a number of ways, including the following:

- Assets' carrying values may be affected by changes in estimated future cash flows.
- Depreciation, depletion and amortization charges in the statements of income and other comprehensive income may change when such charges are determined by the units of production basis, or when the useful economic lives of assets change.
- Overburden removal costs recorded in the statements of financial position or charged to the statement of income and other comprehensive income may change due to changes in stripping ratios.
- Decommissioning costs and provisions for site and environmental restoration may change due to changes in estimated reserves which result from the timing or cost of these activities.
- The recognized value of deferred tax assets/liabilities may change due to changes in estimates of the recoverable amounts of the tax benefits.

The auditor audited the coal reserve estimates by assessing the competency and capability of the management and the expert used by the management to estimate the subsidiary companies' coal reserves as of 31 December 2023. In addition, the auditor tested the significant assumptions used by the management and the expert in the estimation, especially the assumptions relating to coal prices, production levels and discount rate determination. The auditor also reviewed the disclosure of the accounting policy relating to the estimation of coal reserves in the notes to the financial statements.

Goodwill

As at 31 December 2023, the Company recorded goodwill amounting to Baht 186 million. The assessment of goodwill impairment is a significant accounting estimate requiring the management to exercise a high degree of judgement in identifying the cash generating unit, estimating the cash inflows that are expected to be generated from the group of assets in the future, and setting an appropriate discount rate and long-term growth rate. This will affect the appropriateness of the amount of goodwill.

The auditor assessed the identification of cash generating units and the financial models selected by the management by making enquiry of the management and gaining an understanding of its decision-making process to assess whether the decisions made were consistent with how the assets are utilized. In addition, the auditor tested the significant assumptions applied by the management in preparing estimates of the cash flows expected to be realized from the assets, by comparing those assumptions with information from both internal and external sources and comparing past cash flow projections to actual operating results in order to evaluate the exercise of management judgement in estimating the cash flow projections. The auditor also evaluated the discount rate applied by the management through analysis of the weighted average finance costs of the Company and of the industry, tested the calculation of the recoverable amounts of the assets using the selected financial model and considered the impact of changes in key assumptions on those recoverable amounts, especially changes in the discount rate and long-term revenue growth rates. Moreover, the auditor reviewed the disclosures made with respect to the impairment assessment for goodwill.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report of the Group but does not include the financial statements and the auditor's report thereon. The annual report of the Group is expected to be made available to the auditor after the date of this auditor's report.

The auditor's opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and the auditor does not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon. In connection with the audit of the financial statements, auditor's responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or auditor's knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. When the auditor reads the annual report of the Group, if the auditor concludes that there is a material misstatement therein, the auditor is required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance for correction of the misstatement.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so. Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

The auditor's objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes the auditor's opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing, the auditor exercises professional judgement and maintains professional skepticism throughout the audit. The auditor also:

- Identifies and assesses the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for auditor's opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtains an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.

- Evaluates the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Concludes on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If the auditor concludes that a material uncertainty exists, the auditor is required to draw attention in the auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify auditor's opinion. The auditor's conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of the auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluates the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- Obtains sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. The auditor is responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. The auditor remains solely responsible for the audit opinion.

The auditor communicates with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that the auditor identifies during the audit.

The auditor also provides those charged with governance with a statement that the auditor has complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on the auditor's independence, and where applicable, related safeguards (if any).

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, the auditor determines those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. The auditor describes these matters in the auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, the auditor determines that a matter should not be communicated in the report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

(5.2) LITIGATION

In September 2011, a company sued the subsidiary company for its alleged non-compliance with the cassava chip purchase agreement claiming compensation for damage of Baht 186.9 million. The subsidiary submitted the testimony and countersued that company claiming compensation for damage of Baht 82.4 million. Both parties contested the case in three courts, with a final ruling on April 17, 2019. The Supreme Court upheld the judgments of the Civil Court and the Appeal Court, which ordered the aforementioned company to pay the subsidiary company for the advance purchase of cassava chips in the amount of Baht 6.9 million with an interest rate of 7.5 percent per annum starting from November 8, 2011 (Countersue date) until the payment is fully settled.

On May 18, 2018, the subsidiary company filed a lawsuit against the above company with the Bankruptcy Court. The Bankruptcy Court dismissed the case on May 29, 2019 as such company still has claims against a debtor who is a government agency, therefore has not yet become insolvent. In this regard, the subsidiary has already made an attachment of the claim.

On August 13, 2019, the subsidiary company received a partial payment of Baht 0.2 million. Subsequently, on January 21, 2022, the court ordered the debtor to pay the attached funds to the subsidiary company. In October 2022, the subsidiary initiated an execution case by submitting a request to seize the debtor's bank deposit for the full amount as per the writ of execution. The bank has duly remitted the entire amount to the executing officer, while awaiting the preparation of the account and the collection of funds. In December 2022, the debtor submitted a petition to revoke the claim attachment. At present, the matter is under the court's investigation of the petition. Nevertheless, the subsidiary company had previously recorded the full amount of allowance for impairment for the advance payment for cassava chips paid to the aforementioned company.

LPG has been exempted from the interest charge since January 1, 2022, as SRT is undergoing dissolution process. Subsequently, on July 7, 2023, an addendum to the loan agreement was reached, which SRT has transferred the land and buildings to repay a loan of Baht 16,807,915.27 and transferred machinery and equipment at the current market value to repay a loan of Baht 5,885,000, totaling Baht 22,692,915.27 to LPG, and LPG forgave the remaining loan and accrued interest totaling Baht 49,134,972.30 to SRT.

(3) The above transaction is a transaction that is exempted from compliance with the connected transaction requirements since it is a transaction in which both parties are:

(A) Subsidiaries that Lanna holds shares of not less than 90 percent; and

(B) Subsidiaries in which the directors, executives, or related persons holding shares or having direct and indirect interests not exceeding the rate or characteristics prescribed by the Capital Market Supervisory Board, which means holding shares of no more than 10 percent and not being the person who has control over such subsidiaries.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Shareholders of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited

Opinion

I have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited and its subsidiaries (the Group), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2023, and the related consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income, changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and have also audited the separate financial statements of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited for the same period.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited and its subsidiaries and of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited as at 31 December 2023, their financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

I conducted my audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing. My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of my report. I am independent of the Group in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants including Independence Standards issued by the Federation of Accounting Professions (Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants) that are relevant to my audit of the financial statements, and I have fulfilled my other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in my professional judgement, were of most significance in my audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of my audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming my opinion thereon, and I do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

I have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of my report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, my audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to my assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements. The results of my audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for my audit opinion on the accompanying financial statements as a whole.

Key audit matters and how audit procedures respond to each matter are described below.

Revenue recognition

Major revenue of the Group is derived from production and distribution of coal and ethanol. The Group recognised revenue, based on the contractual price, when control of goods is transferred to the customer, generally on delivery goods. The price is based on the market price with adjusted by other factors. Revenue from sales is a significant account because the amount of revenue from sales is material and directly affects the Group's profit or loss. In addition, selling prices are based on the fluctuated market price and current demands. I therefore gave significant attention to the revenue recognition of the Group.

I have examined the revenue recognition of the Group by assessing and testing its internal controls with respect to the revenue cycle by making enquiry of responsible executives, gaining an understanding of the controls and selecting representative samples to test the operation of the designed controls, applying a sampling method to select sales agreements to assess whether revenue recognition was consistent with the conditions of the relevant agreement, and whether it was in compliance with the Group's policy, on a sampling basis, examining supporting documents for actual sales transactions occurring during the year and near the end of the accounting period, reviewing credit notes that the Group issued after the period-end and performing analytical procedures on disaggregated data to detect possible irregularities in sales transactions throughout the period, particularly for accounting entries made through journal vouchers.

Coal reserve estimates for the overseas subsidiaries

Coal reserves are estimates of the amounts of coal that can be economically and legally extracted by the subsidiary companies. The subsidiary companies determine and report their coal reserves under the Australasian Code for Reporting, Exploration Results, Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves (Joint Ore Reserves Committee Code).

Estimating coal reserves requires the use of assumptions about a range of geological, technical and economic factors, including production quantities, production techniques, stripping ratio, production costs, transport costs, commodity demand, coal prices and exchange rates.

Estimating the quantity and/or calorific value of coal ore reserves requires the size, shape and depth of coal ore bodies or fields to be determined through an analysis of geological data such as drilling data, samples and topography. The process of making judgements with respect to such geological data is complex and difficult.

Because the economic assumptions used to estimate the reserves change from period to period, and because additional geological data may be generated during the course of operations, the estimates of reserves may change from period to period.

Changes in reported reserves may affect the subsidiary companies' financial results and financial position in a number of ways, including the following:

- Assets' carrying values may be affected by changes in estimated future cash flows.
- Depreciation, depletion and amortisation charges in the statements of income and other comprehensive income may change when such charges are determined by the units of production basis, or when the useful economic lives of assets change.
- Overburden removal costs recorded in the statements of financial position or charged to the statement of income and other comprehensive income may change due to changes in stripping ratios.
- Decommissioning costs and provisions for site and environmental restoration may change due to changes in estimated reserves which result from the timing or cost of these activities.
- The recognised value of deferred tax assets/liabilities may change due to changes in estimates of the recoverable amounts of the tax benefits.

I audited the coal reserve estimates by assessing the competency and capability of the management and the expert used by the management to estimate the subsidiary companies' coal reserves as of 31 December 2023. In addition, I tested the significant assumptions used by the management and the expert in the estimation, especially the assumptions relating to coal prices, production levels and discount rate determination. I also reviewed the disclosure of the accounting policy relating to the estimation of coal reserves in the notes to the financial statements.

Goodwill

As at 31 December 2023, the Company recorded goodwill amounting to Baht 186 million, as disclosed in Note 18 to the financial statements. The assessment of goodwill impairment is a significant accounting estimate requiring the management to exercise a high degree of judgement in identifying the cash generating unit, estimating the cash inflows that are expected to be generated from the group of assets in the future, and setting an appropriate discount rate and long-term growth rate. This will affect the appropriateness of the amount of goodwill.

I assessed the identification of cash generating units and the financial models selected by the management by making enquiry of the management and gaining an understanding of its decision-making process to assess whether the decisions made were consistent with how the assets are utilised. In addition, I tested the significant assumptions applied by the management in preparing estimates of the cash flows expected to be realised from the assets, by comparing those assumptions with information from both internal and external sources and comparing past cash flow projections to actual operating results in order to evaluate the exercise of management judgement in estimating the cash flow projections. I also evaluated the discount rate applied by the management through analysis of the weighted average finance costs of the Company and of the industry, tested the calculation of the recoverable amounts of the assets using the selected financial model and considered the impact of changes in key assumptions on those recoverable amounts, especially changes in the discount rate and long-term revenue growth rates. Moreover, I reviewed the disclosures made with respect to the impairment assessment for goodwill.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprise the information included in annual report of the Group, but does not include the financial statements and my auditor's report thereon. The annual report of the Group is expected to be made available to me after the date of this auditor's report.

My opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and I do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with my audit of the financial statements, my responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or my knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When I read the annual report of the Group, if I conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, I am required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance for correction of the misstatement.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

My objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing, I exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. I also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in my auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify my opinion. My conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of my auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. I am responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. I remain solely responsible for my audit opinion.

I communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during my audit.

I also provide those charged with governance with a statement that I have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on my independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, I determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. I describe these matters in my auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, I determine that a matter should not be communicated in my report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

I am responsible for the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report.

3. New financial reporting standards

3.1 Financial reporting standards that became effective in the current year

During the year, the Group has adopted the revised financial reporting standards which are effective for fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2023. These financial reporting standards were aimed at alignment with the corresponding International Financial Reporting Standards with most of the changes directed towards clarifying accounting treatment and providing accounting guidance for users of the standards.

The adoption of these financial reporting standards does not have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements except for the following standard, which involves changes to key principles, as summarised below.

TAS 16, Property, Plant and Equipment

The amendment prohibits entities from deducting from cost of an item of property, plant and equipment, any proceeds of the sale of items produced while bringing that asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management. Instead, an entity recognises the proceeds from selling such items, and the costs of producing those items, in the income statement.

The Group has changed this accounting policy in the current period and restated the prior year's financial statements only to items of property, plant and equipment made available for use on or after the beginning of the earliest period presented. The cumulative effect of the change in accounting policy is presented as a separate item in the statement of changes in shareholders' equity.

The amounts of the adjustments affecting the statement of financial position and the income statement are as follows:

3.2 Financial reporting standards that will become effective for fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2024

The Federation of Accounting Professions issued a number of revised financial reporting standards, which are effective for fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2024. These financial reporting standards were aimed at alignment with the corresponding International Financial Reporting Standards with most of the changes directed towards clarifying accounting treatment and providing accounting guidance for users of the standards.

The management of the Group believes that adoption of these amendments will not have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

4. Significant accounting policies

4.1 Revenue and expense recognition

Sales of goods

Revenue from sale of coal and ethanol is recognised at the point in time when control of the asset is transferred to the customer, generally upon delivery of the goods. Revenue is measured at the amount of the consideration received or receivable, excluding value added tax, of goods supplied after deducting discounts to customers.

Income from coal sales are recorded according to the weight as recorded at the Company's site or the customer's site. Adjustments of the sales price due to quality and weight considerations are recognised in the month in which notification is received from customers.

Commission and marketing service income

Commission and marketing service income are recognised on an accrual basis when overseas subsidiaries sell coal to the buyer who the Company provides to subsidiaries.

Service income

Service income is recognised on an accrual basis when overseas subsidiary sells coal which is produced from its concession area to the buyer.

Interest income

Interest income is calculated using the effective interest method and recognised on an accrual basis. The effective interest rate is applied to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, unless the financial assets subsequently become credit-impaired when it is applied to the net carrying amount of the financial asset (net of the expected credit loss allowance).

Dividends

Dividends are recognised when the right to receive the dividends is established.

Finance cost

Interest expense from financial liabilities at amortised cost is calculated using the effective interest method and recognised on an accrual basis.

4.2 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash in hand and at banks, and all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less and not subject to withdrawal restrictions.

4.3 Inventories

Finished goods and work in process are valued at the lower of cost (under the weighted average method) and net realisable value. Such cost includes cost of material, labour and overheads.

Raw materials, supplies and spare parts are value at the lower of cost (under the weighted average method) and net realisable value and are charged to production costs whenever consumed.

Allowance for diminution in inventory value is provided for the excess of cost over the net realisable value of inventories and for slow moving or deteriorated inventories.

Net realisable value is selling price in normal course of business less other costs incurred to sell the goods.

4.4 Investments in subsidiaries and associated companies

Investments in associated companies are accounted for in the consolidated financial statements using the equity method.

Investments in subsidiaries and associated companies are accounted for in the separate financial statements using the cost method.

4.5 Investment properties

Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost less accumulate depreciation and accumulated allowance for loss on impairment (if any).

Depreciation of investment properties is calculated by reference to their costs on the straight-line basis over estimated useful lives of 10 - 20 years. Depreciation of the investment properties is included in determining income.

On disposal of investment properties, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognised in the income statement in the period when the asset is derecognised.

4.6 Agriculture

The subsidiary's biological assets consist of Mangium and Black Wattle which were measured at its fair value less costs to sell. The fair value of Mangium and Black Wattle is determined based on discounted cash flows reference to price of Mangium and Black Wattle at the point of harvest. Gains or losses on changes in fair value of biological assets is recognised in the income statement.

In case the fair value cannot be measured reliably, this biological assets shall be measured at their cost less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Once the fair value of such a biological assets become reliably measurable, the subsidiary shall measure them at their fair value less costs to sell. The agricultural produce is included in inventories.

4.7 Property, plant and equipment and depreciation

Land is stated at cost. Building and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated allowance for loss on impairment of assets (if any).

The cost of property, plant and equipment also includes the initial estimate of the cost of dismantling and removing an item and restoring the site on which it is located, the obligation for which an entity incurs either when the item is acquired or as a consequence of having used the item during a particular period for purposes other than to produce inventories during that period.

Depreciation of plant and equipment is calculated by reference to their costs on the straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives:

Land and building improvement	5 - 20 years
Building and amenities	5 - 30, 50 years
Machinery and equipment	4 - 30, 50 years
Furniture and office equipment	3 - 15 years
Vehicles	5 - 10 years

Depreciation is included in determining income.

No depreciation is provided on assets under construction and installation, land improvement of a local subsidiary and land, except for mining land which is depleted in accordance with the difference between its purchase cost and fair value and on the basis of units produced in proportion to the total coal reserves.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on disposal of an asset is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

4.8 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the respective assets. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they are incurred. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

4.9 Government grants related to assets

Government grants are recognised when there is reasonable assurance that the grants will be received and all attached conditions will be complied with. Government grants related to assets are presented as a deducting to the value of the related assets and are recognised in the income statement over the useful life of the assets as a reduced depreciation expense.

4.10 Intangible assets

Intangible assets are initially recognised at cost. Following the initial recognition, the intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses (if any).

Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised on the straight-line basis over the economic useful life and tested for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method of such intangible assets are reviewed at least at each financial year end. The amortisation expense is charged to the income statement.

Intangible asset with finite useful lives, which is computer software, has useful lives of 3 - 10 years.

4.11 Other non-current assets

Assets under exploration for and evaluation of mineral resources

Exploration and evaluation expenditures of the subsidiaries involve expenditures relating to the search for mineral resources after the subsidiaries have obtained legal rights to explore in a specific area, as well as the determination of the technical feasibility and commercial viability of extracting the mineral resource such as license costs, expenditures from topographical, geological, geochemical and geophysical studies, exploratory drilling expenditure and sampling expenditure.

Exploration and evaluation expenditures are recorded as assets except for administration expenditures that are not directly attributable to the specific area are charged to the income statement. Following the initial recognition, exploration and evaluation assets are stated at cost less accumulated allowance for impairment of assets (if any). In case when the future benefit of these assets is in doubt, they are written off to period expenses immediately.

Exploration and evaluation assets are classified as part of deferred exploration and development costs when proven reserves of the specific area are completely determined.

Deferred exploration and development costs

Development expenditures and incorporated costs before the production stage, which are net of proceeds from the sale of coal extracted during the development phase, are capitalised as deferred exploration and development costs. When the mine construction project moves into the production stage, deferred exploration and development costs are amortised as expenses in accordance with the proportion of units produced to total coal reserves.

Deferred stripping costs

Stripping costs/overburden removal expenses during the development phase of the mine are capitalised as part of the deferred stripping costs.

Stripping costs during the production phase are capitalised as part of the deferred stripping costs if, and only if, all of the following are met:

- a) It is probable that the future economic benefit (improved access to the ore body) associated with the stripping activity will flow to the subsidiaries.
- b) The subsidiaries can identify the component of the ore body for which access has been improved.
- c) The costs relating to the stripping activity associated with that component can be measured reliably.

The deferred stripping costs shall be initially recognised at cost and subsequently stated at cost less accumulated amortisation, which is calculated using the proportion of unit produced to total reserves, and accumulated impairment losses (if any). In case when the future benefit of these assets is in doubt, they are written off to period expenses immediately.

4.12 Goodwill

Goodwill is initially recorded at cost, which equals to the excess of cost of business combination over the fair value of the net assets acquired. If the fair value of the net assets acquired exceeds the cost of business combination, the excess is immediately recognised as gain in the income statement.

Goodwill is carried at cost less any accumulated impairment losses (if any). Goodwill is tested for impairment annually and when circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to each of the Company's cash-generating units (or group of cash-generating units) that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination. The Company estimates the recoverable amount of each cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) to which the goodwill relates. Where the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised in the income statement. Impairment losses relating to goodwill cannot be reversed in future periods.

4.13 Leases

At inception of contract, the Group assesses whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

The Group as a lessee

The Group applied a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. At the commencement date of the lease (i.e. the date the underlying asset is available for use), the Group recognises right-of-use assets representing the right to use underlying assets and lease liabilities based on lease payments.

Right-of-use assets

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less accumulated depreciation, any accumulated impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities initially recognised, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date of the lease less any lease incentives received.

Depreciation of right-of-use assets are calculated by reference to their costs on the straight-line basis over the shorter of their estimated useful lives and the lease term.

Land, building and building improvement	2 - 7 years
Machinery and equipment	3 - 5 years
Furniture, fixtures and office equipment	2 - 5 years
Motor vehicles	2 - 5 years

If ownership of the leased asset is transferred to the Group at the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset.

Lease liabilities

Lease liabilities are measured at the present value of the lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be payable under residual value guarantees. Moreover, the lease payments include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising an option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as expenses in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

The Group discounted the present value of the lease payments by the interest rate implicit in the lease or the Group's incremental borrowing rate. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

A lease that has a lease term less than or equal to 12 months from commencement date or a lease of low-value assets is recognised as expenses on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

4.14 Related party transactions

Related parties comprise individuals or enterprises that control, or are controlled by, the Company, whether directly or indirectly, or which are under common control with the Company.

They also include associated companies, and individuals or enterprises which directly or indirectly own a voting interest in the Company that gives them significant influence over the Company, key management personnel, directors, and officers with authority in the planning and direction of the Company's operations.

4.15 Foreign currencies

The consolidated and separate financial statements are presented in Baht, which is also the Company's functional currency. Items of each entity included in the consolidated financial statements are measured using the functional currency of that entity.

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into Baht at the exchange rate ruling at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Baht at the exchange rate ruling at the end of reporting period.

Gains and losses on exchange are included in determining income.

4.16 Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Group perform impairment reviews in respect of the property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets, investment properties, and other intangible assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that an asset may be impaired. The Group also carry out annual impairment reviews in respect of goodwill. An impairment loss is recognised when the recoverable amount of an asset, which is the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use, is less than the carrying amount. In determining value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs to sell, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by a valuation model that, based on information available, reflects the amount that the Group could obtain from the disposal of the asset in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable, willing parties, after deducting the costs of disposal.

An impairment loss is recognised in the income statement.

In the assessment of asset impairment (except for goodwill) if there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased, the Group estimate the asset's recoverable amount. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The increased carrying amount of the asset attributable to a reversal of an impairment loss shall not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in the income statement.

4.17 Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Salaries, wages, bonuses and contributions to the social security fund are recognised as expenses when incurred.

Post-employment benefits

Defined contribution plans

The Group and their employees have jointly established a provident fund. The fund is monthly contributed by employees and by the Group. The fund's assets are held in a separate trust fund and the Group's contributions are recognised as expenses when incurred.

Defined benefit plans

The Group has obligations in respect of the severance payments they must make to employees upon retirement under labor law. The Group treats these severance payment obligations as a defined benefit plan.

The obligation under the defined benefit plan is determined by professionally qualified independent actuary based on actuarial techniques, using the projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from defined benefit plans are recognised immediately in other comprehensive income.

Past service costs are recognised in the income statement on the earlier of the date of the plan amendment or curtailment and the date that the Group recognise restructuring-related costs.

4.18 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

4.19 Provision for mine reclamation and decommissioning costs

The subsidiaries recognise a provision for mine reclamation and decommissioning costs where an obligation exists. The estimated amount of the eventual costs relating to the site restoration and reclamation is discounted to its present value. Such costs are included in the income statement based on the unit-of-production method on the total estimated reclamation and decommissioning costs over the total proven reserves.

4.20 Income tax

Income tax expense represents the sum of corporate income tax currently payable and deferred tax.

Current tax

Current income tax is provided in the accounts at the amount expected to be paid to the taxation authorities, based on taxable profits determined in accordance with tax legislation.

Deferred tax

Deferred income tax is provided on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts at the end of each reporting period, using the tax rates enacted at the end of the reporting period.

The Group recognises deferred tax liabilities for all taxable temporary differences while it recognises deferred tax assets for all deductible temporary differences and tax losses carried forward to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which such deductible temporary differences and tax losses carried forward can be utilised.

At each reporting date, the Group reviews and reduces the carrying amount of deferred tax assets to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised.

The Group records deferred tax directly to shareholders' equity if the tax relates to items that are recorded directly to shareholders' equity.

4.21 Financial instruments

The Group initially measures financial assets at its fair value plus, in the case of financial assets that are not measured at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs. However, trade receivables, that do not contain a significant financing component, are measured at the transaction price as disclosed in the accounting policy relating to revenue recognition.

Classification and measurement of financial assets

Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, as to be subsequently measured at amortised cost, fair value through other comprehensive income (“FVOCI”), or fair value through profit or loss (“FVTPL”). The classification of financial assets at initial recognition is driven by the Group’s business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flows characteristics of the financial assets.

Financial assets at amortised cost

The Group measures financial assets at amortised cost if the financial asset is held in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at amortised cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest rate (“EIR”) method and are subject to impairment. Gains and losses are recognised in the income statement when the asset is derecognised, modified or impaired.

Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets measured at FVTPL are carried in the statement of financial position at fair value with net changes in fair value including interest income recognised in the income statement.

These financial assets include derivatives, security investments held for trading, equity investments which the Group has not irrevocably elected to classify at FVOCI and financial assets with cash flows that are not solely payments of principal and interest.

Dividends on listed equity investments are recognised as other income in the income statement.

Classification and measurement of financial liabilities

Except for derivative liabilities, at initial recognition the Group's financial liabilities are recognised at fair value net of transaction costs and classified as liabilities to be subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognised in the income statement when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the EIR amortisation process. In determining amortised cost, the Group takes into account any fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in finance costs in the income statement.

Regular way purchases and sales of financial assets

Regular way purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace are recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date on which the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Derecognition of financial instruments

A financial asset is primarily derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or have been transferred and either the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or the Group has transferred control of the asset.

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the income statement.

Impairment of financial assets

The Group recognises an allowance for expected credit losses (“ECLs”) for all debt instruments not held at FVTPL. ECLs are based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at an approximation of the original effective interest rate.

For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12-months. For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure.

The Group considers a significant increase in credit risk to have occurred when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due. However, in certain cases, the Group may also consider a financial asset to have a significant increase in credit risk and to be in default using other internal or external information, such as credit rating of issuers.

For trade receivables, the Group applies a simplified approach in calculating ECLs. Therefore, the Group does not track changes in credit risk, but instead recognises a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date.

ECLs are calculated based on its historical credit loss experience and adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

A financial asset is written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cash flows.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset, and the net amount is reported in the statement of financial position if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

4.22 Derivatives

The Group uses derivatives, such as forward currency contracts, to hedge its foreign currency risks.

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently remeasured at fair value. The subsequent changes are recognised in the income statement. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Derivatives are presented as non-current assets or non-current liabilities if the remaining maturity of the instrument is more than 12 months and it is not due to be realised or settled within 12 months. Other derivatives are presented as current assets or current liabilities.

4.23 Fair value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between buyer and seller (market participants) at the measurement date. The Group applies a quoted market price in an active market to measure their assets and liabilities that are required to be measured at fair value by relevant financial reporting standards. Except in case of no active market of an identical asset or liability or when a quoted market price is not available, the Group measure fair value using valuation technique that are appropriate in the circumstances and maximises the use of relevant observable inputs related to assets and liabilities that are required to be measured at fair value.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy into three levels based on categorise of input to be used in fair value measurement as follows:

Level 1 - Use of quoted market prices in an active market for such assets or liabilities

Level 2 - Use of other observable inputs for such assets or liabilities, whether directly or indirectly

Level 3 - Use of unobservable inputs such as estimates of future cash flows

At the end of each reporting period, the Group determine whether transfers have occurred between levels within the fair value hierarchy for assets and liabilities held at the end of the reporting period that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis.

5. Significant accounting judgements and estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with financial reporting standards at times requires management to make subjective judgements and estimates regarding matters that are inherently uncertain. These judgements and estimates affect reported amounts and disclosures; and actual results could differ from these estimates. Significant judgements and estimates are as follows:

Coal reserve estimates

The subsidiaries determine coal reserve based on best estimate of product that can be economically extracted from the relevant mining area. Such determination is made based on various assumptions including a range of geological, technical and economic factors, quantities, production techniques, stripping ratios, production costs, transport costs, coal prices and exchange rates.

Leases

Determining the lease term with extension and termination option

In determining the lease term, the management is required to exercise judgement in assessing whether the Group is reasonably certain to exercise the option to extend or terminate the lease considering all relevant facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive for the Group to exercise either the extension or termination option.

Estimating the incremental borrowing rate

The Group cannot readily determine the interest rate implicit in the lease, therefore, the management is required to exercise judgement in estimating its incremental borrowing rate to discount lease liabilities. The incremental borrowing rate is the rate of interest that the Group would have to pay to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment.

Allowance for expected credit losses of trade receivables

In determining an allowance for expected credit losses of trade receivables, the management needs to make judgement and estimates based upon, among other things, past collection history, aging profile of outstanding debts and the forecast economic condition for groupings of various customer segments with similar credit risks. The Group's historical credit loss experience and forecast economic conditions may also not be representative of whether a customer will actually default in the future.

Allowance for diminution in inventory value

In determining an allowance for diminution in inventory value, the management needs to make judgement in estimating loss from slow moving and deteriorated inventories including the effect from declining in net realisable value of inventories.

Allowance for impairment of investments

The Company treats investments as impaired when there has been a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value below their cost or where other objective evidence of impairment exists. The determination of what is "significant" or "prolonged" requires judgement of the management.

Property, plant and equipment and depreciation

In determining depreciation of plant and equipment, the management is required to make estimates of the useful lives and residual values of the plant and equipment and to review estimate useful lives and residual values when there are any changes.

In addition, the management is required to review property, plant and equipment for impairment on a periodical basis and record impairment losses when it is determined that their recoverable amount is lower than the carrying amount. This requires judgements regarding forecast of future revenues and expenses relating to the assets subject to the review.

Goodwill

The initial recognition and measurement of goodwill, and subsequent impairment testing, require management to make estimates of cash flows to be generated by the asset or the cash generating units and to choose a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value of those cash flows.

Tax refundable

The estimated claim for value added tax refund is determined in a net basis between value added tax input and output. The subsidiaries recognise overpayment of value added tax because they generated revenue mostly from export sales which are subject to value added tax at a 0% rate.

The estimated claim for income tax refund is measured at the amount expected to be recovered from tax authority which is the excess of prepaid corporate income tax over the corporate income tax expense during the respective fiscal year. The corporate income tax expense is determined based on the estimated taxable income computed using prevailing tax rates.

The management needs to make judgement which the recoverability of the estimated claims for taxes refund is dependent on the examination by tax authority which gives rise to the complexity and uncertainty exist with respect the interpretation of tax regulations.

Deferred tax assets

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences and losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and level of estimate future taxable profits.

Post-employment benefits under defined benefit plans

The obligation under the defined benefit plan is determined based on actuarial techniques. Such determination is made based on various assumptions, including discount rate, future salary increase rate, mortality rate and staff turnover rate.

Provision for mine reclamation and decommissioning costs

The majority of the decommissioning and reclamation costs is incurred at the end of a mine's life. In determining a provision for such costs, the management needs to make judgement regarding the expected future costs to be incurred, the timing of these expected future costs, largely dependent on the life of the mine, and the estimated future level of inflation.

Derivatives not designated as hedging instruments

The Group uses foreign exchange forward contracts to manage some of its transaction exposures. The contracts are entered into for periods consistent with foreign currency exposure of the underlying transactions, generally from 3 to 6 months.

40.2 Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Group's financial instruments principally comprise cash and cash equivalents, trade and other accounts receivable, investments, and short-term and long-term loans. The financial risks associated with these financial instruments and how they are managed is described below.

Credit risk

The Group is exposed to credit risk primarily with respect to trade and other accounts receivable, deposits with banks and financial institutions and other financial instruments. Except for derivatives, the maximum exposure to credit risk is limited to the carrying amounts as stated in the statement of financial position. The Group's maximum exposure relating to derivatives is noted in the liquidity risk topic.

Trade and other accounts receivables

The Group manages the risk by adopting appropriate credit control policies and procedures and therefore does not expect to incur material financial losses. Credit term provided to customers normally is between 7 days and 120 days.

An impairment analysis is performed at each reporting date to measure expected credit losses. The provision rates are based on days past due for groupings of various customer segments with similar credit risks. The Group classifies customer segments by customer type and rating. The calculation reflects the probability-weighted outcome, the time value of money and reasonable and supportable information that is available at the reporting date about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

Financial instruments and cash deposits

The Group manages the credit risk from balances with banks and financial institutions by making investments only with approved counterparties and within credit limits assigned to each counterparty in accordance with the Group's policy. Counterparty credit limits are reviewed by the Group's management or Board of Directors on an annual basis, and may be updated throughout the year subject to approval of the Group's management or Executive Committee. The limits are set to minimise the concentration of risks and therefore mitigate financial loss through a counterparty's potential failure to make payments.

The credit risk on debt instruments and derivatives is limited because the counterparties are banks with high credit-ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies.

Market risk

There are two significant types of market risk comprising currency risk and interest rate risk.

Foreign currency risk

The Group's exposure to the foreign currency risk relates primarily to its importing and service rendering transactions that are denominated in foreign currencies. The Group seeks to reduce this risk by entering into foreign exchange forward contracts when it considers appropriate. Generally, the forward contracts mature within one year.

As at 31 December 2023 and 2022, the Company had balances of financial assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies as follows:

As at 31 December 2023

Foreign currency sensitivity

The following tables demonstrate the sensitivity of the Group's profit before tax to a reasonably possible change in US dollar exchange rates, with all other variables held constant. The impact on the Group's profit before tax is due to changes in the fair value of monetary assets and liabilities including non-designated foreign currency derivatives as at 31 December 2023 and 2022.

US dollar	5	14,226	5	11,188
US dollar	(5)	(14,226)	(5)	(11,188)

Interest rate risk

The Group's exposure to interest rate risk relates primarily to bank deposits, short-term loans, lease liabilities, and long-term borrowings. Most of the Group's financial assets and liabilities bear floating interest rates or fixed interest rates which are close to the market rate.

The Group manages its interest rate risk by providing loans with both fixed and variable interest rates, which must be approved by the Group's management or the Board of Directors. The Group has an interest rate risk management policy by closely monitoring and controlling interest rate risk. Also, monitoring the economic situation, money market and capital market conditions and direction of interest rates that may cause interest rate risk factors. If there is a fluctuation in market interest rates or future direction that will affect the operating results and cash flows, the Group will consider using an interest rate swap contract in order to exchange difference interest amounts between fixed interest rates and variable rates by referencing principal value of the contract at specified intervals.

As at 31 December 2023 and 2022, significant financial assets and liabilities classified by type of interest rate are summarised in the table below, with those financial assets and liabilities that carry fixed interest rates further classified based on the maturity date, or the repricing date if this occurs before the maturity date.

Liquidity risk

The Group monitors the risk of a shortage of liquidity through the use of bank overdrafts, loans from financial institutions and lease contracts. The Group has liquidity risk management policy, which must be approved by the Group's management or the Board of Directors, to ensure that the Group maintains sufficient future cash flows for its business activities. By using cash flow projections, these reports will be used to monitor and control liquidity risks. The Group also determined the liquidity ratio at appropriate level. In addition, there is supervision and monitoring of the net cash flow in each interval to ensure that the Group can manage liquidity risk effectively.

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the Group's non-derivative financial liabilities and derivative financial instruments as at 31 December 2023 and 2022 based on contractual undiscounted cash flows:

40.3 Fair values of financial instruments

Since the majority of the Company's financial instruments are short-term in nature or carrying interest at rates close to the market interest rates, their fair value is not expected to be materially different from the amounts presented in the statement of financial position.

The methods and assumptions used by the Group in estimating the fair value of financial instruments are as follows:

- For financial assets and liabilities which have short-term maturities, including cash and cash equivalents, trade and other accounts receivable, accounts payable and short-term loans from financial institutions, the carrying amounts in the statement of financial position approximate their fair value.
- The fair value of debt securities is generally derived from quoted market prices or by using the yield curve announced by the Thai Bond Market Association or by other relevant bodies.
- The fair value of fixed rate long-term loans is estimated by discounting expected future cash flow by the current market interest rate of loans with similar terms and conditions.

- d) The carrying amounts of long-term loans carrying interest at rates approximating the market rate, in the statement of financial position approximates their fair value.
- e) The fair value of derivatives has been determined using a discounted future cash flow model and a valuation model technique. Most of the inputs used for the valuation are observable in the relevant market, such as spot rates of foreign currencies, yield curves of the respective currencies, interest rate yield curves and commodity price yield curves. The Group considers counterparty credit risk when determining the fair value of derivatives.

During the current year, there were no transfers within the fair value hierarchy.

41. Capital management

The primary objective of the Group's capital management is to ensure that it has appropriate capital structure in order to support its business and maximise shareholder value. As at 31 December 2023, the Group's debt-to-equity ratio was 0.39:1 (2022: 0.54:1) and the Company's debt-to-equity ratio was 0.04:1 (2022: 0.04:1).

42. Events after the reporting period

On 8 January 2024, a fire broke out in a local subsidiary warehouse, affecting the stored cassava chips. A local subsidiary was able to manage the situation, mitigating damage to other areas. The total cost of cassava chips stored in the warehouse on that day amounted to Baht 74.3 million. However, a local subsidiary is covered by insurance against such damage and is currently in the process of claiming compensation from the insurance company.

43. Approval of financial statements
